Co-Head Coach Laura Seibold-Caudill

Co-Head Coach
30th Season at Ball State
Career: 253-154-3
MAC: 84-95-1
Alma Mater: Michigan State, 1976

A two-time Mid-American Conference Coach of the Year (1989-90 & 2003-04), Laura Seibold-Caudill embarks on her fifth season as co-head coach of the Ball State swimming & diving program and her 30th season overall at BSU, after serving as the women’s swimming & diving head coach for 25 years.

In her 29 previous season with the Cardinals, Seibold-Caudill boasts a 253-154-3 (.621) career record, including a 84-95-1 (.469) mark in Mid-American Conference meets. She has helped guided the Ball State women’s squad to third-place finishes at the league championship meet on four occasions, while helping the men’s program to a top three finish in her first season as co-head coach of the program in 2004-05.

Over her career, Seibold-Caudill has coached her student-athletes to MAC individual championships a total of 34 times, while helping guide her relay teams to four titles. Her student-athletes have earned First Team All-MAC honors 28 times, while collecting Second Team All-MAC accolades on 17 occasions.

She has also coached her athletes to two All-American honors, four MAC Diver of the Year awards, three MAC Outstanding Senior awards and two MAC Swimmer of the Year honors. In addition, she has coached two individual NCAA National Championships qualifiers, two U.S. Olympic Swimming Team Trials participants and five International Olympic Team Trial participants.

The Cardinals’ latest MAC individual champion came in 2005-06 when then the MAC Outstanding Senior award winner Kurtis Lewis swept the freestyle sprint events, winning the 50, 100 and 200 titles. Lewis, who is BSU’s record holder in both the 100 and 200 freestyle, finished his career as a six-time MAC champion, also winning all three events his junior year (2004-05).

On the women’s side, Seibold-Caudill helped guide Sarah Welter to the 100 backstroke title at the 2004-05 MAC Championships. Welter also swam the first leg of the 200 Medley Relay squad which captured the event title the same year with a school-record clocking of 1:45.04. Joining Welter in the relay were Tara Zimmer, Erin Johnson and Karla Bailey.

In her final season as the lone head coach for the women’s program, Seibold-Caudill captured the 2003-04 MAC Swimming Coach of the Year award after guiding her squad to an 11-5 dual meet record and a fourth-place finish at the MAC Championships.

A former collegiate diver, Seibold-Caudill helped Beth Clarke capture diving titles on both the 1-meter and 3-meter boards during the 1997-98 season, which earned her MAC Diver of the Year accolades. Clarke picked up the award again in 2000-01 after capturing the MAC title for a second time on the 1-meter board. Clarke also tallied three NCAA National Championship appearances in 1998, 2000 and 2001.

Petra Mauritzon, a two-time MAC champion in the 500 Freestyle and a one-time winner of the 200 Freestyle, was named the league’s outstanding senior after the 1997-98 season. Mauritzon graduated with five school records and still holds the marks to this day.

Seibold-Caudill tutored Joy Gallagher, who became the first freshman in BSU annals to claim a league title with her victory in the 50 freestyle during the 1993-94 season. Gallagher later became the first female in league history to win four-straight MAC titles in a single event, topping the 50 free from 1994-97.

Gallagher also won the 100 free for a second straight season and captured her first 200 free title to earn selection as the MAC Swimmer of the Year for a second time as a senior. Gallagher remains the only woman in league history to capture championships in the 50, 100 and 200 freestyles during the same season. Gallagher, a two-time All-American, was the nation’s No. 1 ranked swimmer in the 50 free during the 1996-97 season.

In 1990, with a team dominated by underclassmen, Seibold-Caudill was selected the MAC Coach of the Year after guiding BSU to third place at the league championships – the highest finish in school history at the time. She also coached three-straight MAC Dividers of the Year in the early 90’s – Eden Zazove (1990-91) and Dawn Ford (1991-92 & 1992-93).

In addition, Stacy Mills achieved distinction at the 1993 MAC meet by posting first-place finishes in the 50-yard freestyle and the 100 butterfly – the first individual swimming titles in BSU women’s swimming history.

Brooke Bauer was BSU’s first MAC individual champion, earning a three overall titles, sweeping the 1-meter and 3-meter events in 1983-84, while taking home the 1-meter title in 1982-83. She was also the program’s first MAC Diver of the Year, collecting the award after the 1983-84 season.

Seibold-Caudill’s teams also stand out academically as evidenced by the combined GPA of 3.30 for last year’s women’s team and the 3.10 mark for the men’s team.

Seibold-Caudill has also coached two CoSIDA Academic All-Americans, while her women’s teams have been chosen as a College Swimming Coaches of America Academic All-America Team every semester since 1993 and the men’s squad has earned the honor every semester she has worked with the program.

Prior to becoming head coach at BSU, Seibold-Caudill was head diving coach and assistant swimming coach at Virginia.

The 1976 Michigan State graduate, Seibold-Caudill was a three-time national finalist in 1-meter and 3-meter diving. She was honored as an All-American for her efforts in 1973, 1974 and 1975.

Seibold-Caudill, who won the East-West Diving Championships while at MSU, was invited to participate in the 1976 U.S. Olympic Team Diving Trials. An eight-time U.S. Diving National Qualifier from 1972-76, she also competed in the U.S. Pan American Team Trials and the U.S. World Game Trials in 1975.

Seibold-Caudill comes from a long line of swimming successes. Her parents were both swimmers at Michigan State. Her father placed second in the U.S. National Championships and was an NCAA All-American. Her uncle Paul Seibold was an NCAA All-American, while her uncle Dave Seibold was an NCAA All-American and U.S. National Champion.

Seibold-Caudill and her husband, Bill, are the parents of four – Ryan, Aaron, Ritchie and Karin. Her son Ritchie, a 2006 BSU graduate, was a former swimmer for the program and is entering his first season as a volunteer assistant coach for the program. Her daughter Karin is a sophomore on the Ball State volleyball team.

Bob Thomas

30th Season at Ball State

Career: 203-149-2

MAC: 92-89-1

Alma Mater: Eastern Illinois, 1974

The winningest coach in the 62-year history of Ball State men’s swimming & diving, Bob Thomas enters his fifth season as co-head coach of the Ball State swimming & diving program and his 30th season overall at BSU, after serving as the men’s swimming & diving head coach for 25 years.

A four-time Mid-American Conference Coach of the Year (1992-93, 1994-95, 1999-00 & 2003-04), Thomas has accumulated a 203-149-2 (.573) career record, including a 92-89-1 (.505) league ledger. He has helped guided the Ball State men’s squad to a pair of runner-up finishes at the MAC Championships (1993-92 & 2003-02), while guiding the team to a top three finish eight times.

Over his career, Thomas has coached his student-athletes to MAC individual championships a total of 40 times, while helping guide his relay teams to seven titles. His student-athletes have earned First Team All-MAC honors eight times, while collecting Second Team All-MAC accolades on 16 occasions.

He has also coached his athletes to four All-America honors, eight MAC Diver of Year awards, four MAC Outstanding Senior awards and a MAC Swimmer of the Year honor.

The Cardinals’ latest MAC individual champion came in 2005-06 when then the MAC Outstanding Senior award winner Kurtis Leer swept the freestyle events, winning the 50, 100 and 200 titles. Leer, who is BSU’s record holder in both the 100 and 200 freestyle, finished his career as a six-time MAC champion, also winning all three events his junior year (2004-05).

On the women’s side, Thomas helped guide Sarah Welter to the 100 backstroke title at the 2004-05 MAC Championships. Welter also swam the first leg of the 200 Medley Relay which captured the event title the same year with a school-record clocking of 1:45.04. Joining Welter in the relay were Tara Zimmer, Erin Johnson and Karla Bailey.

In 2002-03, Thomas picked up his fourth MAC Swimming Coach of the Year award by leading Ball State to an 11-3 dual-meet record and a second-place finish at the MAC Championships despite having just two seniors on the roster. The Cardinals had finished sixth at the league event the year before, giving Thomas the best turnaround in the MAC for the 2002-03 season.

Thomas collected his third MAC Swimming Coach of the Year award after the 1999-2000 campaign, as the Cardinals turned in another solid improvement from the previous season, climbing from eighth to fifth at the league meet. The team also posted a 7-5 dual-meet record, while going 5-2 in conference action.

From the 1995-96 to 1997-98 seasons, Thomas helped coach the program’s latest MAC Diving Champion, as Dave Garrow collected three individual titles on the 1-meter board and a pair of championships on the 3-meter board. A two-time MAC Diver of the Year, Garrow ranks second in the BSU record books in all diving categories.

The 1994-95 season not only saw Thomas pick up his second MAC Swimming Coach of the Year award, it added two individual MAC titles, two MAC relay championships, a 9-3 dual-meet record, a 4-2 MAC ledger and a third-place finish at the league’s championship meet. Both John Goheen (3-meter diving) and Magnus Ohlsson (500 freestyle) won their second-straight MAC individual event titles during the season, while Goheen collected his second-straight MAC Diver of the Year award.

While BSU’s diving dominance began during the 1990-91 season, it reach unprecedented levels in 1993-94, when Dave Keener, a three-time All-American for the Cardinals, and Goheen split the MAC Diver of the Year award. Keener, who was a five-time MAC diving champion and the two-time defending MAC Diver of the Year entering the season, finished first on the 1-meter board, while Goheen captured his first MAC diving title in the 3-meter event.

The 1992-93 campaign still goes down as one of the best for Thomas. Not only did he capture his first MAC Swimming Coach of the Year award, but he also guided the program to its first second-place finish at the MAC Championships and a 7-3 (4-1 MAC) record. Mike Gallagher (50 Freestyle) and Keener (1-Meter & 3-Meter Diving) helped pave the way by combining for three MAC individual titles, while BSU also collected a pair of relay championships, with Gallagher anchoring both.

During the 1989-90 season, Thomas coached Thomas Doyle (100 & 200 Backstroke) and Brian Kennedy (1-Meter & 3-Meter Diving) to a pair of MAC titles each, while leading Craig Patnode to the MAC Outstanding Senior award in 1990-91.

From 1984-89, Thomas coached the most prolific champion in program history in Winand Willigers. A four-time MAC Champion in the 200 IM, Willigers also captured a pair of titles in the 100 and 200 Freestyle, while earning the program’s only MAC Outstanding Swimmer award to go along with MAC Outstanding Senior accolades.

Thomas helped Jeff Grabman collect the program’s first MAC Outstanding Senior award after the 1986-87 season, while tutoring him to MAC titles in the 50 and 100 Freestyle the previous season. John Atkins was Thomas’ first MAC individual champion, earning the 200 Breaststroke title in 1984-85.

His teams have also excelled in the classroom as evidenced by the fact that BSU has been chosen as a College Swimming Coaches of America Academic All-America Team in all but one semester he has coached, while the women’s squad has picked up the award each season he has helped coach the program.

In 1994, Keener was named to the CSCA Academic All-America First Team and the CoSIDA Academic At-Large All-District V Team. Andy Tharp was the program’s first CoSIDA Academic All-America, earning second team honors in 1983-84.

Thomas, an active, competitive swimmer himself, does not limit his success to coaching. In April 2001, he set two national records as a member of the Indy SwimFit team - 50 Backstroke (26.62) and 200 Freestyle Relay (1:43.25) for men ages 45-49.

Thomas came to BSU from Lincoln College, where he coached the school to fifth- and 16th-place national finishes and directed the school’s aquatics program for three years. Prior to that, he was the head coach for one season at Evergreen Park Community High School in Evergreen Park, III.

He earned his bachelor’s degree in 1974 and his master’s degree in physical education in 1975 from Eastern Illinois University. As an undergraduate, Thomas won 14 national championships – seven NAIA national titles in 1971 and 1972 and seven NCAA Division II titles in 1973 and 1974.

During the summer of 2002, his alma mater bestowed its highest athletic honor on him when it inducted Thomas into its Athletic Hall of Fame – making him one of just two swimmers in the school’s history to receive such recognition.

Thomas is a member of an outstanding swimming family. His mother, the former Helen Perry, set a national 200 backstroke record and qualified for the 1940 Olympics. His sister, Kathleen, qualified for the 1968 Olympics as an alternate in the 400 individual medley. His brother, Rick, was an NCAA All-American at Indiana in the 200 free.

In addition, Thomas’ father, Al, played football for a Northwestern team that reached the 1949 Rose Bowl.

Bob and his wife, Susan, have been married 32 years and have two children Lisa and Abby.

Tom Collins - Director of Athletics

Ball State University selected Tom Collins as its director of intercollegiate athletics Jan. 9, 2006.

In his tenure at Ball State, Collins has directed the completion of the Scheumann Stadium renovation, put in place a new five-year gender equity plan and served as a significant member of the university’s senior staff.

“It is clear at Ball State the administration has staked out a commitment to the true scholar-athlete model of intercollegiate athletics,” Collins says. “Couple that with the university’s and the community’s commitment to providing the student-athletes with outstanding facilities and a supportive atmosphere, and it becomes clear why Ball State has a proud academic and athletic tradition.”

Collins heads up a Ball State 19-sport intercollegiate athletics program with a rich tradition in academic and athletic success.

Last year’s football team made an appearance in the International Bowl, which was the school’s first bowl birth since 1996, and capped off a 7-6 season, the best record for a Ball State team since the 1996 campaign.

The baseball team won the 2006 Mid-American Conference Tournament and made its first appearance in the NCAA Tournament since 1969. The women’s soccer team won its first-ever MAC Regular-Season Championship in 2006 and repeated the feat in 2007. The women’s volleyball team advance to the 2006 WNIT and hosted Kentucky in a first-round game.

Academically, Ball State student-athletes in all 19 of the school’s intercollegiate athletic programs graded out better than the necessary 925 in the latest NCAA Division I Academic Progress Report, and 14 of the programs exceeded the national average for all NCAA Division I schools. Ball State was one of only four MAC schools, and the only NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision public institution in Indiana, which did not have a program record a score below 925.

“We are very pleased with the APR Report,” Collins says. “Our coaches, staff and support services do an outstanding job of making sure our student-athletes are getting an education, while growing socially and as student-athletes.”

In addition, Collins sits on the MAC’s Finance Committee, was appointed to the NCAA Division I Amateurism Cabinet and serves as the baseball coaches liaison to the conference office.

Collins’ resume includes working for some of the most recognizable names in intercollegiate athletics. While at Arizona State, he worked with athletic directors Dick Tamburo, Kevin White (currently the A.D. at Duke) and Gene Smith (currently the A.D. at Ohio State). Collins also worked with athletic director Sam Jankovich, while at the University of Miami, and his colleagues through the years include current A.D.’s Jim Livengood (Arizona), Michael Alden (Missouri), Sandy Hatfield Clubb (Drake) and Vic Cegles (Long Beach State).

Patricia Bergman
Patricia Bergman (1969-72) was a three-time national champion for the Cardinals. The first female national champion in any sport in the history of Ball State athletics and one of only a small number in school history, Bergman set national records in the 100-yard backstroke and 100-yard individual medley.

She helped Ball State to a ninth-place finish at the 1971 National Intercolligate Swimming and Diving Championships as the Cardinals placed ahead of Syracuse, Indiana, UCLA, Miami (Fla.), Utah, Northwestern, Oklahoma, Washington State and several others. At the 1971 meet, Bergman won the national title in the 100 IM (1:03.2), with a time just behind her national championship clocking of 1:03.0 set in 1970. She won the national title in 1970 in the 100 back (1:02.3) and finished second in 1971 (1:03.0). At the 1971 national meet, Bergman also placed fourth in the 50 back (26.9), plus helped the Cardinals to a seventh-place finish in the 200 medley relay.

Beth Scott (1994-97), who was born with ocular albinism and nystagmus which limits her vision to 20-200 and leaves her legally blind, is one of the top five medalists to compete in either the Paralympic or Olympic Games, collecting a total of 17 Paralympic medals, including 10 gold, two silver and five bronze. She has also set 10 Paralympic World Records and over a dozen American records. In 1996, Scott was named the US Olympic Committee Athlete of the Year.

Dr. Jo Ann M. Gora began serving as Ball State University's 14th president August 9, 2004. Since her arrival, President Gora has demonstrated her commitment to putting students first, redefining education, championing a greater commitment to leading-edge technology infrastructure, and creating nationally ranked academic programs.

Her dedication to working with faculty, staff, and students to update the university's strategic plan has charted the university's direction through 2012. Just one year into implementation, Ball State has already made great strides in achieving the goals of Education Redefined: Strategic Plan 2007–2012.

Immersive learning is a signature element of the plan. By 2012, each student will have the opportunity to participate in one of these transformative experiences that give students the chance to develop real-world solutions to real-world problems.

Our plan also includes goals to improve our community's quality of life with an even more vibrant environment. Students and employees can anticipate a richer variety of arts and cultural events, additional new and renovated buildings, and the benefits of our dedication to student and employee diversity.

Visit www.bsu.edu/strategicplan for stories that highlight early successes of the plan.
At Ball State, we’re more than just educators -- we’re educational entrepreneurs. Combining top-flight talent with the top-notch resources Ball State has to offer, our students and faculty inject endless energy and creativity into what they teach and how they learn. The result -- a university The Princeton Review calls one of the best in the Midwest.

Ball State believes for an educational experience to be successful, it should be just that - an experience. So we have made a unique commitment to immersive learning programs which incorporate research, real-world partnerships and capstone experiences into the curriculum. Ball State students run NewsLink Indiana, a full-service media news operation serving east central Indiana. Acting, musical theatre and telecommunications students participate in talent showcases in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles. Students in our Student Technology Incubator can develop and launch their own businesses, giving them a head start in the business world before they ever leave college.

Ball State is an integral part of the community and economy of Muncie and greater Indiana. In addition to preparing the state’s entrepreneurs, teachers, health care providers, scientists, designers, artists and media and technology professionals, Ball State conducts projects and research which drive innovation in the state. And our Building Better Communities initiative partners students and faculty with local leaders throughout the state on development projects which make Indiana a better place to live, work and do business.

Ball State’s nationally recognized academic programs, hands-on learning experiences, innovative technology, expert faculty, personal attention and supportive campus environment prepare bright students for professional careers and leadership roles in many specialized fields. Our numerous community projects throughout the state help to spur economic development and advance the quality of life in Indiana.
Ball State’s national rankings and recognitions include:

- Named one of the best universities in the Midwest by The Princeton Review for three years.

- Named by The Princeton Review as one of the best 150 values among the nation’s most academically outstanding colleges.

- Listed among the nation’s first-year “programs to look for” by U.S. News & World Report for the fourth year in a row.

- Recognized as a university committed to diversity by Minority Access for the second year in a row in 2007.

- Featured in a full chapter of a 2008 book touting the nation’s top sustainability initiatives at colleges and universities.

- Listed as one of the nation’s top 50 green universities in Kiwi Magazine’s inaugural “Green College Report.”

- Ranked as the nation’s top wireless campus in a 2005 survey conducted by Intel and published in U.S. News & World Report.

- One of the few Division I schools selected to send two student-athletes to the 2008 NCAA National Student-Athlete Development Conference.

- Had all 19 Ball State athletic teams do well in the 2008 NCAA Academic Progress Rate report. Fourteen exceeded the national average for all Division I institutions. Of the Mid-American Conference schools, Ball State’s football program’s score was the third highest, and the women’s basketball score was second.

- Ranked ninth in 2008 in the fifth annual issue of Gender Equity Scorecard. The publication graded 115 colleges and universities in the 11 major NCAA Division I conferences. Ball State was one of only 11 schools to receive an A grade.
ACADEMICS

Ball State supports its student-athletes academic success throughout their academic career, encouraging their intellectual, personal and social development toward the completion of a Ball State degree and their preparation for life. The Office of Academic Support Services for Student-Athletes provides a welcoming, confidential environment for student-athletes who need individual academic counseling. It also holds workshops, study tables and other academic activities to facilitate student-athletes and challenge them to become proactive in their studies, develop time-management and study strategies and stretch their sense of responsibility and maturity.

Classified a research intensive institution by the Carnegie Foundation, Ball State has seven academic colleges and a graduate school. Ball State offers 150 majors and 76 master’s, nine graduate certificates, two specialist and 16 doctoral degrees.

TECHNOLOGY

Ball State has a secure broadband wireless network, which provides Internet access across campus. Our nearly 200 computer labs put professional-grade equipment for interactive media, digital imaging, graphics and more at the fingertips of students and faculty and also include adaptive technology labs and computer-based testing labs.
HISTORY
Ball State began as a private normal school in 1899. Eventually the campus and buildings were purchased by the Ball brothers, Muncie industrialists, and given to the state of Indiana in 1918. The institution became a university in 1965.

CAMPUS
Our 660-acre residential campus includes more than 60 buildings and some 300 additional acres of research property.
Among our more than 146,000 living alumni are renowned entertainers, top corporate executives, leading educators, and members of the Indiana General Assembly.
