The young women in this program know what is necessary to be successful academically and athletically. We have a lot of work to do to get where we want to be, but we have a strong foundation of golfers and are looking forward to the challenge of moving up in the Mid-American Conference."

Mike Fleck, who was a member of the Ball State golf team from 1988 through 1992, was named the third head men’s golf coach in Ball State history Aug. 20, 1998. "Ball State is an outstanding university with a mission of balance between athletics, academics and community service," Fleck says. "The golf program is one in which our current student-athletes and hundreds of alumni take a great amount of pride. Coach Yestingsmeier spent his life building the foundation for this golf program, and it has been my pleasure to coach at my alma mater for the last 11 seasons. Our student-athletes understand the importance of earning a degree, while serving as a role model for the youth in the Muncie community. We set goals on a daily basis to achieve our final goals -- earn a degree, excel on and off the golf course and learn life lessons through the social aspects of a collegiate student’s lifestyle.

In Fleck’s 11 seasons, he has coached the team to 11 tournament titles, including the prestigious 2006 First Energy Intercollegiate played at the famed Firestone Golf Club. In the 2009 calendar year, the Cardinals managed to win the Cardinal Collegiate at Sultans Run in Jasper, Ind., and claimed the championship at the Dayton Flyer Invitational at National Cash Register Golf Course in Kettering, Ohio.

Hanson played in six competitive rounds in his final season and tallied a season low 74 at the Wolf Run Intercollegiate.

He earned four letters for Coach Ben Barkey at Warsaw High School in Warsaw, Ind., and led his team to the 2005 state championship after a third-place finish in the 2004 event. The University

Jo Ann Gora began serving as Ball State University’s 14th president in August 2004. Under her leadership the university is making immersive learning the hallmark of every Ball State student’s college experience. During 2007–08, more than 2,600 Ball State students completed 125 immersive learning projects throughout Indiana.

Gora has led an update of Ball State’s strategic plan, which is the basis for the university’s capital campaign, Ball State Bold: Investing in the Future. It will raise $200 million by 2011. She recently earned the Mira Trailblazer Award from TechPoint for her significant and lasting contributions to technology innovation in Indiana.

Gora was one of the 12 charter signatories to the American College and University Presidents Climate Commitment in December 2006. In May, Gora and other officials broke ground on the nation’s largest ground source geothermal energy system. When completed, it will heat and cool more than 40 buildings on campus, saving the university $2 million a year while reducing its carbon footprint by nearly half.

In 2008, she was awarded an honorary doctorate from Yeungnam University in South Korea. She is Indiana’s representative to the American Association of State Colleges and Universities board and is one of the 57 presidents and chancellors on The New York Times/Chronicle of Higher Education higher education cabinet. She chairs the Mid-American Conference Presidents’ Council and co-chairs the Central Indiana Corporate Partnership. She serves on the boards of the Indiana Chamber of Commerce, First Merchants Bank, and Ball Memorial Hospital.
