The Briner Sports Complex will open for the 2011 season. It will include a new soccer facility and an entryway for the soccer, field hockey and track facilities. The $1.7 million project will be known as the Briner Sports Complex to recognize the outstanding contribution of Ken and Peggy Briner, who are longtime loyal fans and contributors to Ball State athletics.

In addition to the new soccer facility and entryway for the competition fields north of Scheumann Stadium, the Briner Sports Complex will include a press box and storage building for soccer.
Q&A WITH HEAD COACH CRAIG ROBERTS

What is your coaching philosophy?
As a coach you are always looking to develop a player, both on and off the field. You want to have good athletes that produce wins, and you also want to teach good leadership and strength in the classroom. When our young ladies graduate from Ball State, we want them to be renowned for their athletic endeavors and their academic desires.

Where will your leadership come from?
Our team chose our captains, Sarah Orsich and Brit Reder, during the spring and those two players have been great leaders so far this season. They both play prominent roles on the field, but just as important, they understand the importance of team chemistry off the field and work towards developing one unified team.

How has the program progressed from last year?
We are a lot more organized and have had chances to settle in as a program. Although we were pleased with the progress of our results, we want to move forward and enhance what we did from last year. We had a new attitude and desire in the spring as our players realized the hard work and dedication it is going to take for our program to reach another level.

What are the strengths of this year’s team?
This team has a lot of different qualities that makes it special. We have a lot more athleticism than we have ever had. Also, we have a different variety of approaches to the game. This allows the coaching staff to select a lineup which is going to be conducive to the opponent or a particular game plan which will allow us to exploit an opponent’s weakness.

How important will it be to incorporate this year’s large freshmen class into the program?
All of our freshmen are coming in from very experienced and mature clubs and high school programs, so they will be able to handle all of the challenges which a team faces during the season. Our freshmen class has elevated our level of play already this season and they make our team infinitely deeper than in years past. The talent level of our entire team has risen to a new level this season and we have competition throughout the lineup, which will only make our team better as the season progresses.

What is Ball State soccer going to be known for this year?
We are going to be known for our tenacity. Our players have a lot of desire to move the program forward. We are going to be hard-working and definitely will have a lot more offensive power this year. Dedication and hard work is what our opponents will know Ball State soccer for this year.

What are some goals for this year?
One of the main things we are looking to do is to enhance our scoring this year. On the opposite end of the field, we are going to close out a lot of games on defense with less goals being scored on us. The goal is for each unit we have is to be more consistent with its performances.

Ultimately, our team goals are to win the Mid-American Conference regular season championship and tournament titles so we can take Ball State soccer to its first ever NCAA Tournament.

How important is team chemistry?
One of the assets we have here is our team chemistry and the willingness everyone has to help each other. We have a strong family-oriented team that works together through thick and thin. We are always going to be working as one tight-knit team and we do numerous team-building activities throughout the season. At the end of the day, I hope our players not only take memories away from the success we have on the field, but also from the activities we do off the field as a team.

How does the schedule play out for 2011?
Our 2011 schedule allows us to compete against a variety of styles of play around the United States. I believe this schedule will test and prepare our team for conference play. It embraces not only different styles, but teams from numerous conferences. Each opponent has served well in their respective conferences and this will demand a high level of performance from the Ball State soccer team. We are excited with the challenge put ahead of us.

Craig Roberts enters his second season as the Ball State soccer head coach in 2011. Roberts is the fourth head coach in Ball State history and he spent four seasons as the head coach at Tennessee-Martin prior to his appointment in 2010. Under his direction, the Cardinals have brought in 12 freshmen for the 2011 season, including the Gatorade Kansas Player of the Year Hannah Chadick and a member of the Czech Republic National Team in Pavla Berényová.

Roberts, a native of Kidderminster, England, guided the Cardinals to a 7-10-2 record last season, nearly doubling their win total from the previous year. He led Ball State to a 6-2-0 non-conference record, its best non-conference start to a season since the 2005 campaign when the Cardinals boasted an 8-1-0 record.

The Cardinals also excelled in the classroom last season as they earned the NSCAA Team Academic Award with a 3.51 team GPA. Ball State placed four members on the Academic-All-MAC Teams and six members on the NSCAA Scholar All-Region Team. Sophomore Skylar Chew led the way as she was named CoSIDA Academic All-District last year.

Roberts turned in the most successful stint in UTM soccer history in just four seasons, including the program’s first ever Ohio Valley Conference regular season championship in 2009. Over his last three seasons, he has tallied 29 victories for the Skyhawks, which matches the combined number of wins for the program’s previous seven seasons. He owns the top three marks for wins in a season, including the program’s first ever 10-win seasons (2007 & 2008).

Under Roberts’ guidance in 2009, UT Martin picked up its first OVC title with a 9-7-0 overall record and a 6-2-0 mark in league play, marking the program’s most conference wins in a single season. The Skyhawks finished the season 39th in NCAA Division I in shutout percentage as they posted eight on the season and only allowed 13 goals in 16 games.

In 2008, Roberts posted his second straight 10-win season as UTM finished the year 10-5-4 overall and advanced to the program’s first ever OVC Tournament Championship game appearance. His team finished 21st in NCAA Division I in goals against average at 0.65. In 2007, Roberts led UTM to the 16th most improved team in NCAA Division I as the Skyhawks posted a 10-6-3 record, doubling their win total in just his second season.

During his time at UT Martin, Roberts has compiled a 34-27-12 record, including a 19-3-1 mark over the past three seasons at home. Under his tutelage the Skyhawks have had five First Team All-OVC players, five All-OVC Newcomer players, nine OVC All-Tournament players, 16 OVC Players of the Week, 41 players on the OVC Commissioner’s Honor Roll and three players who received an OVC Medal of Honor (4.0 G.P.A.).

Prior to UT Martin, Roberts spent two seasons as an associate head men’s coach at Virginia Military Institute. He helped VMI to the 16th most improved Division I program in the nation in 2005 as it earned its first winning season in 16 years. He was nominated for the prestigious National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) assistant coach of the year award for his work with the Keydets.

Prior to VMI, Roberts was an assistant at Saint Mary’s College of California where he helped the Gaels to a No. 24 ranking in the nation during his time. He began his collegiate coaching career at Park University (Mo.) where he was an assistant men’s and women’s coach for both teams ranked in the top 10 nationally in NAIA.

Roberts was a four-year starter and captain at Park for the nationally ranked Pirates. He received all-region accolades for his performance in the 1992 season. He received his bachelor’s degree in education with a concentration in athletic training and biology from Park in 1997 and his master’s degree in education from Park in 2003. He is currently pursuing a master’s of kinesiology from Saint Mary’s.

Roberts participated in national schoolboy team tryouts in England at an early age and went on to obtain semi-professional and professional playing experiences with Wolverhampton Wanderers, Oxford United, Kidderminster Harriers and Worcester City.

Roberts holds his United States Soccer Federation (USSF) ‘A’ License, NSCAA Premier License, NSCAA Goalkeeper Diploma, USSF Youth Specialist License and his English Football Association Coaching License.

Ileana Moschos was named the Ball State soccer assistant coach June 20, 2011 by head coach Craig Roberts. Moschos brings 10 years of coaching experience to the Cardinals and spent the past four years as the top assistant at Missouri Valley Conference power Creighton.

Moschos, who was a world-class goalkeeper for the Greek National Team from 2002-04, helped Creighton to a 15-4-2 record last fall and the NCAA Tournament as the Bluejays won the MVC Tournament. Under her guidance, Creighton posted 35 shutouts over the past four years. Last season, the Bluejays finished 33rd in NCAA Division I with 10 shutouts and were 49th in the country with a .853 save percentage.

During her time in Omaha, Moschos has coached an All-Conference goalkeeper in three out of four years, including Alicia Montgomery in 2009 and 2010. Under her watchful eye, Montgomery led the MVC in save percentage and goals against average last season while finishing 30th in the nation with a .851 save percentage.

In 2009, Creighton posted a school-record 11 shutouts and an 0.60 goals against average, as no opponent scored more than two goals against the Jays. The Bluejays ranked seventh in the NCAA with a .879 save percentage and 13th with an 0.60 goals against average.

Moschos has been a coach at the collegiate level since 1998 having worked in seven different programs. She served as an assistant coach at Creighton, Florida State, Iowa State, North Texas, Sacramento State, Wyoming and Davidson. In addition to her collegiate coaching experience, she coached the Olympic Development Program in Dallas from 2002-04 and the ODP in Nebraska from 2007-2011.

At Florida State, Moschos helped the Seminoles advance to the College Cup in 2006. She coached FSU goalkeeper Ali Mims, as she set the Seminoles’ season record for goals against average (0.65) and shutouts (11). At Iowa State, she was part of the 2005 Big 12 Coaching Staff of the Year after the Cyclones earned a program-best second-place finish in the Big 12 and a bid into the NCAA Tournament.

After her collegiate playing career, Moschos was a member of the Greek National Team when it hosted the 2004 Athens Summer Olympics. She was named the Most Valuable Goalkeeper in the Women’s Professional Soccer League (WPSL) in 2002 while playing for the California Storm. She was also invited to the first-ever Women’s United Soccer Association (WUSA) combine and draft.

Moschos earned her bachelor’s degree in business economics from Wofford College in 1998 after being a four-year letterwinner for the Terriers. A team captain, she earned All-Southern Conference Tournament accolades in 1997 and was an NSCAA All-South selection in 1996.

Moschos has received her master’s degree, advanced national and national diplomas from the NSCAA. She has been an NSCAA licensed goalkeeper since 2000. In 2006, she earned a master’s degree from Wyoming in physical and health education and kinesiology.

Jo Ann Gora began serving as Ball State’s 14th president in August 2004. Under her leadership, the university has made immersive learning the hallmark of every Ball State student’s college experience. From 2007-2010, nearly 8,200 students completed more than 500 immersive learning projects throughout Indiana and beyond.

Gora has led the development and implementation of the university’s Education Redefined strategic plan, which was the basis of the university’s capital campaign, Ball State Bold. It concluded in June 2011 and topped its $200 million goal by more than $10 million.

Since Gora’s arrival, Ball State has been in the midst of an unprecedented era of campus improvement. For the eight-year period ending in 2012, the university is spending approximately $418 million on major construction and renovation projects. Gora was one of 12 charter signatories to the American College and University Presidents Climate Commitment in 2006. She has led Ball State’s sustainability efforts, including its geothermal energy project, the largest of its kind in the country. This fall, the university completes Phase One of the project, shutting down two coal-fired boilers and saving more than $1 million annually in operational efficiencies.

In 2009, Gora earned the Mira Trailblazer Award from TechPoint for her significant and lasting contributions to technology innovation in Indiana. She is a member of the American Council on Education’s Board of Directors and the Association of Governing Boards’ Council of Presidents. She chairs the Mid-American Conference Presidents’ Council and co-chairs the Central Indiana Corporate Partnership. She serves on the boards of the Indiana Chamber of Commerce, First Merchants Bank, and Ball Memorial Hospital.
Among our more than 152,000 living alumni are renowned entertainers, top corporate executives, leading educators, and members of the Indiana General Assembly.
