EDITH A. PATTON MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

The Edith A. Patton Memorial Scholarship was established as a memorial to Edie Patton, an assistant field hockey coach for 14 years at Ball State, who passed away Oct. 26, 1993, after a lengthy battle with cancer. Patton helped build Ball State's field hockey program into one of the most respected in the country. During her tenure, the Cardinals posted 13 winning seasons, six undefeated regular season league finishes, six Mid-American Conference Championships and the school's first-ever berth in the NCAA Tournament.

To be considered for the award, a student-athlete must meet the following criteria: 1) be a participant on the BSU field hockey team for a minimum of two years; 2) be a player who demonstrates a commitment to the defensive aspects of the game; and 3) demonstrate skills and characteristics that Edie so vividly displayed and encouraged, including integrity, courage, commitment, a desire to be the best and the ability to laugh at yourself. The annual award is determined by the field hockey coaching staff and athletic director.

The Cardinals hosted a first round NCAA Tournament game in 1994, earning a 3-0 shutout win versus ninth-ranked Ohio State.

In the fall of 2013, the Ball State Turf Field at the Briner Sports Complex was upgraded with a FieldTurf Hockey Speed surface. “The upgrade to the water-based FieldTurf Hockey Speed product will allow us to have a surface ideal for elite levels of play,” head coach Beth Maddox said. “Our student-athletes are excited about the new surface.”
Beth Maddox enters her fifth season as head coach of the Ball State University field hockey team in 2014. Maddox is the sixth head coach in Ball State history. Under her direction, the Cardinals have brought in three freshmen for the 2014 season, in addition to 17 current upperclassmen.

Maddox and the Cardinals finished with a 6-12 mark last season in conjunction with a 1-4 record in the Mid-American Conference. The Cardinals welcomed the first win of the season at Appalachian State in Harrisonburg, Va., with a score of 2-0. Ball State went on to claim its first home victory against Colgate thanks to the pair of goals from Tarek Teich resulting in a final score of 2-1. Ball State wrapped up the home season with an exciting 1-0 shutout win over MAC rival Ohio on senior day due to a late game goal from Biana Velizar help from Shelby Henley’s 13 saves in the game.

In her first season at the helm of the program in 2010, Maddox and the Cardinals notched a 6-14 record, the squad’s best since 2006. Ball State posted wins over non-conference foes Robert Morris, St. Louis, Longwood and in-state rival Indiana, as well as a pair of league victories over Miami.

Devanny Kuhn collected First Team All-MAC and two MAC Offensive Player of the Week honors, in 2010 while Gretchen Lulow tallied Second Team All-MAC accolades and Maura Sawicki collected MAC Defensive Player of the Week honors. Maddox came to the Cardinals after completing her third season at Colgate in 2010, where she assisted Cathy Fauco in all aspects of the program, including player development, practice preparation, video editing and recruiting. In addition, Maddox participated as a coach at the 2008 U.S. Field Hockey Association Futures Program.

During Maddox’s time at Old Dominion, the field hockey team made consecutive NCAA tournament appearances and won the national championship in 2000. Did You Know . . .
> Ball State's 18 All-America selections are the most of any school in MAC history.
> All four seniors on the 1994 team reaped All-America recognition, including two with first team distinction.
> Four Cardinals have earned All-America honors multiple times in their careers. Jen Brown led the way, finishing her career with 1997 All-America First Team honors after collecting second team honors in 1995 and 1996. Sally Northcroft stands as the only two-time first team selection. Ashleigh and Kerri Schoutz are the only sisters to receive All-America recognition, a feat they each accomplished twice.
> Ball State has had more than 100 players and two coaches accumulate more than 50 distinctive honors and awards since 1975. Sally Northcroft earned 29 awards throughout the 1996-1999 seasons.

Ball State moved from a grass playing surface on campus to the newly opened Ball State Turf Field on Sept. 12, 1998 and celebrated by handing 16th-ranked Syracuse a 3-2 overtime defeat. Since the move to the new facility, the Cardinals have compiled a 51-63 (.447) all-time record at Ball State Turf Field.
16 MAC CHAMPIONSHIPS

The 1994 team set a school record for winning percentage with a 19-2-2 overall record and posted a school record 16 shutouts. The team registered an 18-game non-losing streak and ranked in the top 10 all year, including No. 7 in the final poll. After losing at No. 2 Northwestern in the NCAA Tournament quarterfinals, all four seniors -- Cathy Basso, Gina Lucido, Mindy Pretzman and Ashleigh Schoutz -- earned All-America accolades.

Paul W. Ferguson began his duties as Ball State’s 15th president in August 2014. Prior to his arrival at the university, he served as president of the University of Maine for three years. There, he led the Blue Sky Project, an inclusive campus planning and implementation process, to raise Maine to new levels of excellence as the most distinctively student-centered and community-engaged of the American research universities. Ferguson has a demonstrated record of transforming universities, especially in the areas of academic quality and student success, increased research and economic development, partnerships between the university and community, and faculty development.

Before his arrival at Maine, Ferguson spent five years as provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs at Southern Illinois University Edwardsville, where he also was professor of pharmacology and toxicology. He implemented five major initiatives there, improving academic quality and assessment, student success, faculty development, educational outreach, and enrollment management. The university received national recognition for its academic innovation, culture of assessment, and commitment to continuous quality improvement.

An accomplished scholar with a record of achievement spanning more than three decades, Ferguson began his academic career as assistant professor of pharmacology and toxicology at the University of Louisiana at Monroe (ULM). There, he established the first undergraduate toxicology program in the South while leading research and outreach efforts aimed at assessing potential risks from chemical exposures throughout Louisiana. After five years working as senior toxicologist for Unocal Corp. in Los Angeles, he returned to ULM, where he earned awards as professor and head of the Division of Pharmacology and Toxicology. In 1993, he was appointed dean of graduate studies and research, and in 1995, he was named vice provost.

In 1999, Ferguson came to the University of Nevada, Las Vegas as professor and dean of the Graduate College. He helped that university realize its vision of becoming a premier metropolitan research university by serving in a number of leadership roles, including senior vice provost and vice president for research and graduate studies. In the latter position, he led the continued development of the UNLV research and graduate education enterprise, which saw annual extramural funding increase from $59 million to $95 million and the number of graduate programs rise from 74 to 108.

A Southern California native, Ferguson graduated from Whittier College and later earned a doctoral degree in pharmacology and toxicology at the University of California, Davis in 1981. Between his undergraduate and graduate studies, he worked as a research specialist at th Los Angeles County–University of Southern California Medical Center and as a research biologist for Pennwalt Corp.

Ferguson and his wife, Grace, have been married for 40 years and have three children. David lives in Houston, Texas, where he is a postdoctoral research scientist at the Baylor College of Medicine; Kathryn and her husband, Bobby Bowman, live in New York City, where she completed her studies at NYU School of Medicine; and Jenny recently earned her bachelor’s degree at the University of Maine, where she majored in political science.
