I would like to thank all of the children for their brilliant and evocative work.

I would like to thank all other students and friends who participated.

Special thanks to Yung-ho.

Special thanks and love to Julie and Brittany.
- I wanted to study the house.

- I wanted architecture.

- I do not know what architecture is, and if I did there would be nothing for me to discover.

- I do know what a house is.

- This is where we live.

- I asked the children a question.

- I asked teenagers and adults the same question.

- What is the most favorite place in your house and why?

- I asked them to draw this place.

- I used this for inspiration and not interpretation.

- The children's drawings and writings had the most influence on me.
- This is what they wrote.
1. Describe your most favorite place in the house. It's a little hole in our living room with a door.

2. Why do you like this place? It's quiet, private and nobody knows where I am.

3. Describe the place you dislike the most in the house. Upstairs

4. Why do you dislike this place? It's too hot in the summer and too cold in the winter.
