Abstract

With the fast-paced rise in budget cuts within today’s schools, teachers are forced to ask themselves this question: Do I continue teaching without those materials or buy them on my own? It appears that grant money is really the only way most teachers can afford new and useful supplies for their classrooms. Of course, another option is to spend a portion of the paycheck on classroom supplies, and I am sure that many would prefer to do so rather than learn how to apply for a grant. However, I hope that my research and grant writing guidelines, starting points, and examples can become beneficial to those who do decide to save money and apply for a grant.
Acknowledgements

- I want to thank Sarah Coy who completed independent credit hours in order to investigate the grant writing process with me. Sarah was a business major at Ball State University, and her business plan was over the ROOTS project referred to in my project as well.

- I would like to thank Dr. Victor Lawhead who became my thesis advisor after much encouragement to become a leader in the field of education. Unfortunately, due to medical complications, Dr. Lawhead had to step down as advisor. So, I also thank Dr. Cathy Siebert who volunteered to be the second advisor for this thesis. Both Dr. Lawhead and Dr. Siebert served as editors, critiquing my paper and reading over it for any mechanical/spelling errors, and encouragers. I whole heartedly say that I could not have done it without them both.

Behind the Scenes
History of the Project

Our primary objective is to serve as a catalyst to a more empowered community by uncovering and organizing existing resources within the community; by building internal leadership up from the community; and by working alongside existing community members. We call ourselves ROOTS. We are a group of individuals from Ball State University who have a vision, who are on a mission, and who hope to positively affect children’s lives. We operate according to these two verses (six and seven) from the second chapter of Colossians: “So then, just as you received Christ Jesus as Lord, continue to live in him, rooted and built up in him, strengthening in the faith as you were taught, and overflowing with thankfulness” (Holy Bible)\(^1\). By no other means than our Holy Father would we have the strength and determination to take on such a task. We want to live among those we serve, building them up in the faith while devoting our lives to the position of servant leadership. As Robert K. Greenleaf put it, the director of a childcare center in Indianapolis, Indiana, servant leadership may be defined as successful when “those served grow as persons... become healthier, wiser, freer, more autonomous, [and] more likely themselves to become servants.”

The ROOTS project is targeting about 19,000 people (according to the 2000 census) in what is called the Central City Neighborhood in New Orleans, Louisiana (www.gnocdc.org). Refer to pages i, ii, and iii in Appendix A for maps. A more specific area that we plan to target is the Hoffman Triangle. This is a neighborhood of about 9,000 within the boundaries of three streets that form a triangle. “It is located on the 2800 Block of South Prieur Street between Washington Avenue and Toledano Street” (http://www.cityofno.com). Refer to pages iv and v in Appendix A for maps. It is labeled as the Hoffman Triangle because of the school located in the corner. The school is John W. Hoffman Elementary, and ROOTS has a particular interest in possible improvements for the school. Approximately 8,150 homes inhabit Central City. Associated Neighborhood Development (AND) is an organization that has begun improvement efforts within the neighborhood. They have begun their work in the Hoffman Triangle. Many of the homes there are beyond repair, so AND is tearing down those walls and beginning again. A $100,000 community development block grant was obtained for the works of AND. It is part of the Neighborhood Development Foundation (NDF) created in 1986, and they state, “Building new homes also builds the confidence of the residents that decay can be arrested and transformed into a positive force” (http://www.cityofno.com).

The city of New Orleans has a population of 484,674, the largest percent of the residents aged eighteen and older. With that said, the question may arise, why focus so many projects and so much time and money on this one little neighborhood (not even quite two percent of New Orleans’ population)? Those involved in the efforts have observed the poverty, despair, and incredible need for improvement. Just a few blocks from John W. Hoffman Elementary, a newly renovated, predominately white school is excelling. It does not seem fair. Finding the drastic differences in facilities and performance is discouraging and heart-breaking. From my own personal observations, great potential lies within the Hoffman Triangle’s boundaries. As a result of about eighty survey responses conducted in November 2004 and March 2005, I have found that those residents eighteen and older desire what all of us do: a job that is enjoyable and pays for a place to live. Most of those surveyed said they were satisfied with their jobs and dedicated to their neighborhood. Refer to Appendix B for a copy of the survey along with a summative report. While many of us want the shiny, newest car, logo inscribed, coolest clothes, and may the biggest flat screened television available, Hoffman Triangle citizens, who probably strive for those same things, can barely keep their houses together in one piece. Nearly fifty percent of those in Central City, 49.8% to be exact, are living in poverty\textsuperscript{3}. This is why AND has devoted much time, sweat, and hard-work to the renovation and rebuilding of livable homes. This is why ROOTS has devoted much thought and consideration to a future plan. Of the 13,984 residents in Central City who are sixteen and older, only 37.2% of them are employed. Of the 13,396 residents who are eighteen and older, only 26.2% of them have received a high school diploma or GED. Only 11.6% of those 13,396 have obtained a bachelor’s degree or higher. We want to keep these kids in school so that they have a chance at a better life! It is not a secret that a higher education will increase the possibilities of obtaining better paying jobs.
Scene I
The Why of Grant Writing

Why Teachers Pursue Grants

It is a well-known fact that teachers too often find themselves spending their own money on school supplies. It seems that college courses for aspiring teachers will have to include a grant writing course. School budgets are tight; individual departments are limited on spending costs. Teachers are forced to pay for resources on their own or do without. However, grant money can prevent him/her from having to do so. Classroom supplies/equipment can be obtained through the funding of a grant or award, and I want teachers to be aware of this. Grant money may also send a teacher, or a group of teachers, to a conference on an issue of professional development. Educators need to have access to this money, and I hope to spread the news by sharing my findings with my friends and family who teach as well as my future co-workers.

Admit it; we all need resources, whether a teacher like myself or not, businesses thrive on resources, households thrive on resources, and churches thrive on resources just the same. The art of grant writing is a skill worth learning. Money is always needed in all of the places just mentioned, and it is also obtainable, through grants. It is just a matter of applying for the right one. But before a grant proposal and application can be completed, you have to go on a hunt for the appropriate foundation, organization, or business. It is the teacher’s responsibility to seek out grant opportunities; the grant providers do not normally advertise in order to give away their money! The media is not teasing us with the money available. Grant monies are not dangled in front of our faces, but the money is available— if you know where to look and how to apply.
How Grants Can Be Used In The Classroom

According to Grant Writing for Teachers (Karges-Bone, 1994), among the top 200 "hot topics for grants" are these things common within all schools and classrooms:

- After-School Programs
- Reading Programs
- Writing Programs
- Books
- Big Books
- Games
- Technology

However, have you ever thought of including the following within your classroom?

- Pen Pals (Foreign and Local)
- Family Values
- Nutrition
- Self-Esteem Programs
- Self-Image Programs

These are also found on the list of 200 hot topics for grants. The above list could be useful in creating a well-rounded curriculum as well as well-rounded individuals.
Monies to Support Other Needs

Endowments are used to provide one or more persons with a salary/income. Endowment funds may be obtained for the school to pay an individual who is working in a summer camp, for example. Seed money is used to start up a new program within the classroom, school, or school district. Seed money can also be used to study the need for a particular project. In other words, your school may receive money to do research on and evaluate a potentially new program for the school. A training grant is obtained to support “training of staff, students, prospective employees, project participants, or a designated population” (Burke, 2000). Emergency funds would be obtained if creating an after-school program for example. Volunteers are present, activities are taking place outside of the classroom, and unexpected problems may arise. A planning grant is needed when a project is still in the design and planning process. Research grants are readily accessible; they are often used by college students. However, research grants also provide current practicing teachers with money for “research in the form of studies, surveys, evaluations, investigations, and experimentation” (Burke, 2000). Building/renovation grant money is used for improvements on the actual school building, or could even be used for an addition to the school building. For example, ROOTS could use building/renovation money to fix up an abandoned building as an office/community gathering space. Equipment grant money is available for manipulatives and other items needed in individual classrooms as well as those needed for the whole school building/system. In the example provided (to come in Scene III: The Grant Application Process) an equipment grant is desired for new playground equipment. It is important to keep in mind that there is a difference between supplies and equipment when writing for a grant. Equipment is generally labeled as anything over $500.00 that would last for two years or more (Karges-Bone, 1994).
Scene II
Grants and Awards

Explaining The Difference

I will take a moment to explain the difference between a grant and an award. A grant is usually associated with a budget, but an award is not; this is the easiest way to remember their differences. A coordinator of the project has to apply for a grant, but anyone can apply for someone else to get an award. An award is usually characterized by an anonymous gift or a surprise distribution of money.

Becoming part of professional teacher organizations such as the National Education Association (NEA) or the American Federation of Teachers (AFT) may greatly benefit those in search of grant money. However, annual fees are required to be a part of these teacher unions. I found that the National Education Association (NEA) provides numerous internal grants, meaning that if one is a member, they can receive grant money from NEA. NEA has created the NEA Foundation which provides money for raising student achievement, technology to be integrated into the arts, learning and leadership, and disadvantaged and minority students, just to name a few (http://nfie.org). A foundation is defined as “A private group or organization that awards funds for charitable or research purposes” (Karges-Bone, 1994). The NEA also offers awards.

Now, let us look at what the American Federation of Teachers (AFT) has to offer. The AFT does not provide internal grants as the NEA does. Instead, the AFT leads seekers to other sources for money. They work closely with foundations and companies that give priority to AFT applicants. A couple of examples, from the AFT homepage, are Coca-Cola and the National Council for the Social Studies.
Possible Grant Sources

The following list will serve as a springboard for those seeking out grants. It is only a starting point, so I encourage you to search for other grant provider’s Internet sites as well.

Professional Organizations/Associations:

- DANA: http://www.dana.org provides grant money in science and health to support brain research. Educational grants are available “for educating and nurturing children from pre-kindergarten through high school,” and Arts Education grants are also available through DANA to support the teaching of the arts in public schools.

- National Endowment for the Arts: http://www.nea.gov/grants/apply/# provides you with the opportunity to win grant money for specific arts such as dance, design, musical theatre, radio, etc.

- International Reading Association: http://www.reading.org/association/index.html provides money to “those who help others learn to read”.

Federal Grants:

- National Endowment for the Humanities: http://www.neh.fed.us supports research, education, preservation, and public programs in the humanities.

- http://www.USAGovernmentGrants.org

A typical government (federal) grant application is available for review under Appendix C. I do not speak directly on the issue of government grants because the requirements are strictly outlined within the specific application forms.

Foundations:

- William Knight Foundation: http://www.danbury.org/williamknightfoundation/ provides funds for summer camp opportunities for students of the minority.
• Ford Foundation: http://www.fordfoundation.org provides grants within these three areas: Asset Building and Community Development, Peace and Social Justice and Knowledge, and Creativity and Freedom. Review the website for more information and details concerning qualifications.

• Emeril Lagasse Foundation: http://www.emeril.org/about/vision.htm Emeril Lagasse is a famous chef owning and operating Emeril restaurants around the U.S. Only those areas where an Emeril restaurant resides are eligible for the grant money. Money is used to support programs that encourage and benefit disadvantaged, minority students.

• AT&T Foundation: http://www.att.com/foundation/ provides funds for these three “program areas”: Education, Civic and Community Service, and Arts and Culture.

• The Kellogg Foundation: http://www.wkkf.org says, “To be eligible for a grant, the organization or institution, as well as the purpose of the proposed project, must qualify under regulations of the United States Internal Revenue Service as a 501c3 organization.”

The 501c3 for tax-exempt status, or form 1023, is a form to qualify you and your business as not-for-profit. A thirty-eight-page document is available for review under Appendix D that contains form 1023 along with instructions for filing and a procedural checklist; all of this is also accessible at http://www.irs.gov/charities/index.htm.

The IRS (Internal Revenue Service) website listed above also provides .pdf files that are pamphlet-like downloadable on the computer to provide help and answer questions about 501c3 and the application process.
Scene III
The Grant Application Process

What follows is a guide to grant writing. The first step is to find an organization that can provide funds for specific needs. The second step is to write a proposal letter, and the final step is to apply for the grant. Once the grant representative has read your proposal and decided to give you the chance to win the money, a grant application is provided. All samples to follow have been written by myself, as if going through the processes for the ROOTS project. Much of the work is a collaboration of information and research from the resources listed in the bibliography. They are not easily cited because of the overlapping and combined efforts from each piece of literature. This is why few citations are listed internally. Good luck on your future grant writing projects. The sources cited at the end of this project can be accessed for additional information. They were all helpful during this process, and I'm sure you may find useful information available from them that was not included in my focused research.

Before attempting to apply for a grant in the educational system, it is important to establish three things. First, identify the group(s) of children to be affected by the project such as: preschool education, elementary education, secondary education, health education, or special education. Second, know what problem areas the project/funds could be aimed at affecting, such as: alcohol, computer literacy, disadvantaged, drugs, dropouts, handicapped, homeless, crime/delinquency, ethics, religion, mental health, nutrition, family, recreation/physical fitness, accountability, or daycare. Third, which is the first step of creating a proposal letter, identify what types of grants/support you are in search of: endowments, seed money, training grant, emergency funds, planning grant, research, building/renovation, or equipment grant.
Now that you have decided what type of money you are asking for and why, creating a grant proposal and completing an application is much like an art. Numerous categories of information are needed, and gathering the contents becomes intensively time-consuming. It is said that the biggest mistake people make when writing proposals is trying to write one that will fit for all providers (Bauer, 1999). Different sources will categorize components of a grant proposal into a different number of necessary sections. I have combined the ideas of all the sources I reviewed. My guideline for writing a grant proposal consists of seven sections. Below you will find that each section is given a Roman numeral and titled with a heading that sums up the information to follow. Within the actual proposal, these Roman Numerals and headings need not be included; unless otherwise noted, the proposal is written in a standard essay format.

I. Summary (Cover Page)

This is written on letterhead. It includes an umbrella statement of your intent. The Cover Page may also consist of a mission statement and table of contents.

II. Statement of Need

An explanation of importance for the project, supplies, etc. and requested funding is needed on this second page of the proposal. Do not intermingle these first two sections of your proposal. They should clearly appear separate from one another. This statement of need may include why it is necessary for your plan to succeed and then why it is necessary to receive the financial help. The problem should be defined and a solution proposed. Specific, measurable goals and objectives may also be included here.
III. Budget

The budget should be created on yet another sheet of paper if lengthy. For example, create the budget on a third page if it neatly fits on a page or two (avoid half sheets). Specific funds should be requested, and future funding should be outlined. If a plan for financial security and project sustainability beyond the grant agency’s help is secure, the grantee is more likely to provide the requested help.

IV. Uniqueness Paragraph

This section should appear in the proposal as no longer than a paragraph, but it may fall before or after the budget. In other words, it may be included (even just a sentence or two) at the end of the Statement of Need. The Uniqueness Paragraph states why you deserve the money over another teacher/school/corporation.

V. Closing Paragraph

This last page of your proposal presents the organizer’s name (if there is an individual who is taking responsibility) and contact information. If there is not a particular individual seeking money but instead a school or school corporation, a principal or superintendent should provide his/her name and contact information.

VI. Signature(s)

Whoever is applying should type and sign his/her name after the closing paragraph.

VII. Attachments

If this applies or is allowed, attachments should be noted at the very bottom of the page with the closing paragraph and signature(s). This simply insures that attachments are not overlooked, misplaced, or lost. Review the application for your grant’s specific requirements because attachments may be invalid in the evaluation process.
Completing these seven sections should leave you a step closer to receiving the grant money you need/want. Then, the third step is filling out the application you receive after your proposal letter is read and the grant provider feels it is possible to provide you with the desired funds. I have included a sample proposal letter that I wrote as a hypothetical employee of John W. Hoffman Elementary School in New Orleans, Louisiana (see figure 1). The cover page, or summary, is what you will find first. Sections II (statement of need) through V (closing paragraph), within this sample proposal letter, are not separated onto different pages because only a brief budget of expected expenses is included. This is another way to organize your proposal. Depending on how much information you have to include, either way is acceptable. In other words, if a great deal of detail is involved, and each section is about one page in length, separate each section onto its own page. Otherwise, I would recommend adhering to the subsequent model. Note, however, that the summary/cover page is always its own page.
Dear [Name]

It is our intent to submit a proposal to obtain funding for a school playground. John W. Hoffman Elementary School currently serves 264 students in grades pre-kindergarten through sixth.

The Mission Statement of our school is:

The New Orleans Public Schools, with the support of the entire community, commits to ensuring that every child in every grade in every public school will achieve the maximum potential of his/her ability. Children come first. They must be educated to graduate with mastery of essential subjects and to be technologically proficient to compete as productive citizens in the challenging 21st Century.

(Statement of Need) Our students have been deprived of recess for the past five years. Test scores were the lowest of all elementary schools in Louisiana, so remediation quickly took the place of all free time. However, it is our experience that the students require time outside, away from their desks, in order to perform academically to the best of their abilities. Therefore, we would like to provide the students with safe equipment for play. Because our focus has been on improving test scores, no funds are left to secure a safe playground for the students.

(Uniqueness) Only the kindergarten classes have been allowed a recess, and they are forbidden on the playground equipment because it is old, rusted, and clearly unsafe.

(Budget) John Hoffman has decided to buy each piece of equipment separately for our playground. In order to do so, there is an installation fee for each piece, but we feel that if one piece needs replaced for whatever reason it would be much easier to do so if separate from the rest. Therefore, each piece is around $1,000.00, and we intend to buy four pieces. We would like to buy a swing set, two slides, and monkey bars. Plans for more equipment may be made if the children can take care of these four pieces for a year. By then, the school should have obtained enough funds for a new piece every year or two.

(Closing Paragraph) Please forward all future correspondence to me, Ashley Boyd, second grade teacher at John Hoffman Elementary School. I will be serving as the coordinator of this effort. I would be happy to talk with you by telephone, and I can be reached at the school from about 7:00 to 4:00 during the week. The numbers are: Office 504-827-4569 / Fax 504-827-4653. I look forward to elaborating on our proposal at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

Ashley Boyd
Scene IV

Conclusion

It is important to keep in mind what type of money you are asking for while writing for a grant. Remember that options include endowments, seed money, training, emergency funds, planning, research, building/renovation, and equipment in addition to typical classroom supplies and activities. Be specific when identifying your need for the money. After finding available money, write a proposal letter to that provider and hope for the invitation to send back an application. Remember the seven sections of the proposal letter in order to make a good impression and have a chance at winning the money. Budget cuts are leaving educators with a tough choice: seek out money from alternative sources or use personal income for classroom necessities. Various monies are out there to help, and I hope that more educators take advantage.
Postscript

*Please note that at the completion of this project John W. Hoffman Elementary School was closed. The Orleans Parish is in the process of laying off over 400 professional educators. It is a grave disappointment to myself and the rest of the ROOTS project team, but this thesis nevertheless remains relevant to the current and future educators of the world.

It is important to comment on the hurricane that destroyed most of the Central City Neighborhood, also at the completion of this project. Hurricane Katrina hit August 29, 2005 as a category four. Wind speeds reached 175 miles per hour. I do not currently know how this tragedy has affected Associated Neighborhood Development (AND) and their improvement efforts within the Hoffman Triangle. I do know from previous residents of the area that homes in the Hoffman Triangle were standing in over six feet of water.
Notes

1 Taken from the New International Version (NIV) of the Holy Bible.

2 See attached and note that these surveys were collected outside of the local grocery store. An incentive was the raffle, which won a lucky individual a $20.00 gift card from the store. We collected around thirty surveys in November and fifty in March.

3 Note: Poverty has been defined as below $18,850 for a family of four. Since 1964, this has been determined by multiplying by three the estimated amount of money needed in a year to feed an average family of four.

4 If a specific name is not known, write “Director of (fill in appropriately)” or “(fill in organization/foundation’s name) Board”. It is suggested to avoid the generic “To Whom It May Concern”.

Purpose of Form

1. Completed Form 1023 required for section 501(c)(3) exemption.—Unless it meets one of the exceptions in 2 below, any organization formed after October 9, 1969, must file a Form 1023 to qualify as a section 501(c)(3) organization.

The IRS determines if an organization is a private foundation from the information entered on a Form 1023.

2. Organizations not required to file Form 1023.—The following types of organizations may be considered tax-exempt under section 501(c)(3) even if they do not file Form 1023:

1. Churches.
2. Integrated auxiliaries of churches, and conventions or associations of churches, or
3. Any organization that:
   (a) Is not a private foundation (as defined in section 509(a)), and
   (b) Has gross receipts in each taxable year of normally not more than $5,000.

Even if the above organizations are not required to file Form 1023, these organizations may choose to file Form 1023 in order to receive a determination letter that recognizes their section 501(c)(3) status.

Section 501(c)(3) status provides certain incidental benefits such as:
• Public recognition of tax-exempt status.
• Advance assurance to donors of deductibility of contributions.
• Exemption from certain state taxes.
• Exemption from certain Federal excise taxes.
• Nonprofit mailing privileges, etc.

3. Other organizations.—Section 501(e) and (f) cooperative service organizations, section 501(k) child care organizations, and section 501(n) charitable risk pools use Form 1023 to apply for a determination letter under section 501(c)(3).

4. Group exemption letter.—Generally, Form 1023 is not used to apply for a group exemption letter. See Pub. 557 for information on how to apply for a group exemption letter.

What To File

All applicants must complete pages 1 through 9 of Form 1023. These organizations must also complete the schedules or forms indicated:

1. Churches...
2. Schools...
3. Hospitals and Medical Research...
4. Supporting Organizations...
5. Private Operating Foundations...
6. Homes for the Aged or Handicapped...
7. Child Care...
8. Scholarship Benefits or Student Aid...
9. Organizations that have taken over or will take over a “for profit” institution...
10. Organizations requesting an advance ruling in Part III, Line 10...

Attachments.—For any attachments submitted with Form 1023, ...

• Show the organization’s name, address, and employer identification number (EIN).
• Identify the Part and line item number to which the attachment relates.
• Use 8½ x 11 inch paper for any attachments.
• Include any court decisions, rulings, opinions, etc., that will expedite processing of the application. Generally, attachments in the form of tape recordings are not acceptable unless accompanied by a transcript.

When To File

An organization formed after October 9, 1969, must file Form 1023 to be recognized as an organization described in section 501(c)(3). Generally, if an organization files its application within 15 months after the end of the month in which it was formed, and if the IRS approves the application, the effective date of the organization’s section 501(c)(3) status will be the date it was organized.

Generally, if an organization does not file its application (Form 1023) within 15 months after the end of the month in which it was formed, it will not qualify for exempt status during the period before the date of its application. For exceptions and special rules, including automatic extensions in some cases, see Part III of Form 1023.

The date of receipt of the Form 1023 is the date of the U.S. postmark on the cover in which an exemption application is mailed or, if no postmark appears on the cover, the date the application is stamped as received by the IRS.

Private delivery services.—See the instructions for your income tax return for information on certain private delivery services designated by the IRS to meet the “timely mailing as timely filing/paying rule.” The private delivery service can tell you how to get written proof of the mailing date.

Caution: Private delivery services cannot deliver items to P.O. boxes. You must use the U.S. Postal Service to mail any item to an IRS P.O. box address. See the Form 8718 for the P.O. box address as well as the express mail or a delivery service address.

Where To File

File the completed Form 1023 application, and all required information, with the IRS at the address shown in Form 8718.

The IRS will determine the organization’s tax-exempt status and whether any annual returns must be filed.

Signature Requirements

An officer, a trustee who is authorized to sign, or another person authorized by a power of attorney, must sign the Form 1023 application. Attach a power of attorney to the application. You may use Form 2848, Power of Attorney and Declaration of Representative, for this purpose.
Deductibility of Contributions

Donors can take a charitable contribution deduction if their gift or bequest is made to a section 501(c)(3) organization. The effective date of an organization’s section 501(c)(3) status determines the date that contributions to it are deductible by donors. (See When To File on page 1.) Contributions by U.S. residents to foreign organizations generally are not deductible. Tax treaties between the U.S. and certain foreign countries provide limited exceptions. Foreign organizations (other than those in Canada or Mexico) that claim eligibility to receive contributions deductible by U.S. residents must attach an English copy of the U.S. tax treaty that provides for such deductibility.

Appeal Procedures

The organization’s application will be considered by the IRS which will either:
1. Issue a favorable determination letter;
2. Issue a proposed adverse determination letter denying the exempt status requested; or
3. Refer the case to the National Office.
If the IRS sends you a proposed adverse determination, it will advise you of your appeal rights at that time.

Language and Currency Requirements

Language requirements.—Prepare the Form 1023 and attachments in English. Provide an English translation if the organizational document or bylaws are in any other language.

Financial requirements.—Report all financial information in U.S. dollars (specify the conversion rate used). Combine amounts from within and outside the United States and report the total for each item on the financial statements.

For example:
- Gross Investment income
  - From U.S. sources: $4,000
  - From non-U.S. sources: $1,000

Annual Information Return

If an annual information return is due while the organization’s application for recognition of exempt status is pending with the IRS (including any appeal of a proposed adverse determination), the organization should file at the following address:

Internal Revenue Service
Ogden Service Center
Ogden, Utah 84201-0027

- Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt From Income Tax, or
- Form 990-EZ, Short Form Return of Organization Exempt From Income Tax, and,
- Schedule A (Form 990), Organization Exempt Under Section 501(c)(3), or
- Form 990-PF, Return of Private Foundation, if the organization acknowledges it is a private foundation, and

Indicate that an application is pending.

If an organization has unrelated business income of more than $1,000, file Form 990-T, Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return.

Public Inspection of Form 1023

Caution: Note the discussion below for the potential effect of the Taxpayer Bill of Rights 2 (TBOR2) on these instructions.

IRS responsibilities for public inspection.—If the organization’s application for section 501(c)(3) status is approved, the following items will be open to public inspection in any District office and at the National Office of the IRS (section 6104):
1. The organization’s application and any supporting documents.
2. Any letter or other document issued by the IRS with regard to the application.

Note that the following items are not available for public inspection:
1. Any information relating to a trade secret, patent, style of work, or apparatus that, if released, would adversely affect the organization, or
2. Any other information that would adversely affect the national defense.

IMPORTANT: Applicants must identify this information by clearly marking it, “NOT SUBJECT TO PUBLIC INSPECTION,” and must attach a statement to explain why the organization asks that the information be withheld. If the IRS agrees, the information will be withheld.

Organization’s responsibilities for public inspection.—The organization must make available a copy of its approved application and supporting documents, along with any document or letter issued by the IRS for public inspection.

These documents must be available during regular business hours at the organization’s principal office and at each of its regional or district offices having at least three paid employees. See Notice 88-120, 1988-2 C.B. 454.

A penalty of $20 a day will be imposed on any person under a duty to comply with the public inspection requirements for each day a failure to comply continues.

Furnishing copies of documents under TBOR2.—The Taxpayer Bill of Rights 2 (TBOR2), enacted July 30, 1986, modified prospectively the section 6805 penalty and the rules for the public inspection of returns and exemption applications. An organization must furnish a copy of its Form 990, Form 990-EZ, or exemption application, and certain related documents, if a request is made in writing or in person.

For a request made in person, the organization must make an immediate response.

For a response to a written request, the organization must provide the requested copies within 30 days.

The organization must furnish copies of its Forms 990, or Forms 990-EZ, for any of its 3 most recent taxable years. No charge is to be made other than charging a reasonable fee for reproduction and actual postage costs.

An organization need not provide copies if:
1. The organization has made the requested documents widely available in a manner provided in Treasury regulations, or
2. The Secretary of the Treasury determined, upon application by the organization, that the organization was subject to a harassment campaign such that a waiver of the obligation to provide copies would be in the public interest.

Penalty for failure to allow public inspection or provide copies.—The section 6805 penalty for willful failure to allow public inspections or provide copies is increased from the present-law level of $1,000 to $5,000 by TBOR2.

Effective date of TBOR2.—These public inspection provisions governing tax-exempt organizations under TBOR2 generally apply to requests made no earlier than 60 days after the date on which the Treasury Department publishes the regulations required under the provisions. However, Congress, in the legislative history of TBOR2, indicated that organizations would comply voluntarily with the public inspection provisions prior to the issuance of such regulations.

Special Rule for Canadian Colleges and Universities

A Canadian college or university that received Form T2051, Notification of Registration, from Revenue Canada (Department of National Revenue, Taxation) and whose registration has not been revoked, does not need to complete all parts of Form 1023.

Such an organization must complete only Part I of Form 1023 and Schedule B (Schools, Colleges, and Universities). It must attach a copy of its Form T2050, Application for Registration, together with all the required attachments submitted to Revenue Canada. It must furnish an English translation if any attachments were prepared in French.

Other Canadian organizations.—Other Canadian organizations that seek a determination of section 501(c)(3) status must complete Form 1023 in the same manner as U.S. organizations.

Specific Instructions

The following instructions are keyed to the line items on the application form:

Part I. Identification of Applicant

Line 1. Full name and address of organization.—Enter the organization’s name exactly as it appears in its creating document including amendments. Show the other name in parentheses, if the organization will be operating under another name.
For a foreign address, enter the information in the following order: city, province or state, and country. Follow the country's practice in placing the postal code in the address. Do not abbreviate the country name.

Line 2. Employer identification number (EIN).—All organizations must have an EIN. Enter the nine-digit EIN the IRS assigned to the organization. See Form SS-4, Application for Employer Identification Number, for information on how to obtain an EIN immediately by telephone, if the organization does not have an EIN. Enter", "applied for," if the organization has applied for an EIN number previously. Attach a statement giving the date of the application and the office where it was filed. Do not apply for an EIN more than once.

Line 3. Person to contact.—Enter the name and telephone number of the person to contact during business hours if more information is needed. The contact person should be an officer, director, or a person with power of attorney who is familiar with the organization's activities and is authorized to act on its behalf. Attach Form 2848 or other power of attorney.

Line 4. Month the annual accounting period ends.—Enter the month the organization's annual accounting period ends. The accounting period is usually the 12-month period that is the organization's tax year. The organization's first tax year depends on the accounting period chosen. The first tax year could be less than 12 months.

Line 5. Date formed.—Enter the date the organization became a legal entity. For a corporation, this is the date that the articles of incorporation were approved by the appropriate state official. For an unincorporated organization, it is the date its constitution or articles of association were adopted.

Line 6.—Indicate if the organization is one of the following:
- 501(e) Cooperative hospital service organization
- 501(f) Cooperative service organization of operating educational organization
- 501(k) Organization providing child care
- 501(n) Charitable risk pool

If none of the above applies, make no entry on line 6.

Line 7.—Indicate if the organization has ever filed a Form 1023 or Form 1024, Application for Recognition of Exemption Under Section 501(a), with the IRS.

Line 8.—If the organization for which this application is being filed is a private foundation, answer "N/A." If the organization is not required to file Form 990 (or Form 990-EZ) and is not a private foundation, answer "No" and attach an explanation. See the Instructions for Form 990 and Form 990-EZ for a discussion of organizations not required to file Form 990 (or Form 990-EZ). Otherwise, answer "Yes."

Line 9.—Indicate if the organization has ever filed Federal income tax returns as a taxable organization or filed returns as an exempt organization (e.g., Form 990, 990-EZ, 990-PF, or 990-T).

Line 10. Type of organization and organizational documents.—Organizing instrument. Submit a copy of the organization's instrument. If the organization does not have an organizing instrument, it will not qualify for exempt status.

A condensed copy is one that agrees with the original and all amendments to it. The condensed copy may be:
- A photocopy of the original signed and dated organizing document, OR
- A copy of the organizing document that is unsigned but is sent with a written declaration, signed by an authorized individual, that states that the copy is a complete and accurate copy of the original signed and dated document.

Corporation.—In the case of a corporation, a copy of the articles of incorporation, approved and dated by an appropriate state official, is sufficient by itself.

If an unsigned copy of the articles of incorporation is submitted, it must be accompanied by the written declaration discussed above.

Signed, or unsigned, copies of the articles of incorporation must be accompanied by a declaration stating that the original copy of the articles was filed with, and approved by, the state. The date filed must be specified.

Unincorporated association.—In the case of an unincorporated association, the condensed copy of the constitution, articles of association, or other organizing document must indicate, in the document itself, or in a written declaration, that the organization was formed by the adoption of the document by two or more persons.

Bylaws.—If the organization has adopted bylaws, include a current copy. The bylaws do not need to be signed if they are submitted as an attachment to the Form 1023 application. The bylaws of an organization alone are not an organizing instrument. They are merely the internal rules and regulations of the organization.

Trust.—In the case of a trust, a copy of the signed and dated trust instrument must be furnished.

Dissolution clause.—For an organization to qualify for exempt status, its organizing instrument must contain a proper dissolution clause, or state law must provide for distribution of assets for one or more section 501(c)(3) purposes upon dissolution. If the organization is relying on state law, provide the citation for the law and briefly state the law's provisions in an attachment. Foreign organizations must provide the citation for the foreign statute and attach a copy of the statute along with an English language translation.

See Pub. 557 for a discussion of dissolution clauses under the heading, Articles of Organization, Dedication and Distribution of Assets. Examples of dissolution clauses are shown in the sample organizing instruments given in that publication.

Organizational purposes.—The organizing instrument must specify the organizational purposes of the organization. The purposes specified must be limited to one or more of those given in section 501(c)(3). See Pub. 557 for detailed instructions and for sample organizing instruments that satisfy the requirements of section 501(c)(3) and the related regulations.

Part II. Activities and Operational Information

Line 1.—It is important that you report all activities carried on by the organization to enable the IRS to make a proper determination of the organization's exempt status.

Line 2.—If it is anticipated that the organization's principal sources of support will increase or decrease substantially in relation to the organization's total support, attach a statement describing anticipated changes and explaining the basis for the expectation.

Line 3.—For purposes of providing the information requested on line 3, "fundraising activity" includes the solicitation of contributions and both functionally related activities and unrelated business activities. Include a description of the nature and magnitude of the activities.

Line 4a.—Furnish the mailing addresses of the organization's principal officers, directors, or trustees. Do not give the address of the organization.

Line 4b.—The annual compensation includes salary, bonus, and any other form of payment to the individual for services while employed by the organization.

Line 4c.—Public officials include anyone holding an elected position or anyone appointed to a position by an elected official.

Line 4d.—For purposes of this application, a "disqualified person" is any person who, if the applicant organization were a private foundation, is:

1. A "substantial contributor" to the foundation (defined below);
2. A foundation manager;
3. An owner of more than 20% of the total combined voting power of a corporation that is a substantial contributor to the foundation;
4. A "member of the family" of any person described in 1, 2, or 3 above;
5. A corporation, partnership, or trust in which persons described in 1, 2, 3, or 4 above, hold more than 35% of the combined voting power, the profits interest, or the beneficial interests; and
6. Any other private foundation that is effectively controlled by the same persons who control the tax-exempt private foundation or any other private foundation substantially all of whose contributions were made by the same contributors.

A substantial contributor is any person who gave a total of more than $5,000 to the organization, and those contributions are more than 2% of all the contributions and bequests received by the organization from the date it was created up to the end of the year the contributions by the substantial contributor were received. A creator of a trust is treated as a substantial contributor regardless of the amount contributed by that person or others.

See Pub. 578 for more information on "disqualified persons."
Line 5.—If your organization controls or is controlled by another exempt organization or a taxable organization, answer “Yes.” “Control” means that:

1. Fifty percent (50%) or more of the filing organization’s officers, directors, trustees, or key employees are also officers, directors, trustees, or key employees of the second organization; or
2. The filing organization appoints 50% or more of the officers, directors, trustees, or key employees of the second organization; or
3. Fifty percent (50%) or more of the filing organization’s officers, directors, trustees, or key employees are appointed by the second organization.

Control exists if the 50% test is met by any one group of persons even if collectively the 50% test is not met. Examples of special relationships are common officers and the sharing of office space or employees.

Line 6.—If the organization conducts any financial transactions (either receiving or distributing cash or other assets), or nonfinancial activities with an exempt organization (other than a 501(c)(3) organization), or with a political organization, answer “Yes,” and explain.

Line 7.—If the organization must report its income and expense activity to any other organization (tax-exempt or taxable entity), answer “Yes.”

Line 8.—Examples of assets used to perform an exempt function are: land, building, equipment, and publications. Do not include cash or property producing investment income. If you have no assets used in performing the organization’s exempt function, answer “N/A.”

Line 10a.—If the organization is managed by another exempt organization, a taxable organization, or an individual, answer “Yes.”

Line 10b.—If the organization leases property from anyone or leases any of its property to anyone, answer “Yes.”

Line 11.—A membership organization for purposes of this question is an organization that is composed of individuals or organizations who:

1. Share in the common goal for which the organization was created;
2. Actively participate in achieving the organization’s purposes; and
3. Pay dues.

Line 12.—Examples of benefits, services, and products are: meals to homeless people, home for the aged, a museum open to the public, and a symphony orchestra giving public performances.

Note: Organizations that provide low-income housing should see Rev. Proc. 86-32, 1986-1 C.B. 717, for a “safe harbor” and an alternative facts and circumstances test to be used in completing line 12.

Line 13.—An organization is attempting to influence legislation if it contacts or urges the public to contact members of a legislative body, for the purpose of proposing, supporting, or opposing legislation, or if it advocates the adoption or rejection of legislation. If you answer “Yes,” you may want to file Form 5768, Election/Revocation of Election by an Eligible Section 501(c)(3) Organization To Make Expenditures To Influence Legislation.

Line 14.—An organization is intervening in a political campaign if it promotes or opposes the candidacy or prospective candidacy of an individual for public office.

Part III. Technical Requirements

Line 1.—If you check “Yes,” proceed to line 7. If you check “No,” proceed to line 2.

Line 2a.—To qualify as an integrated auxiliary, an organization must not be a private foundation and must satisfy the affiliation and support tests of Regulations section 1.5094-2. See the factors in the regulations for determining whether the auxiliary organization is an integrated auxiliary.

Line 3.—Relief from the 15-month filing requirement is granted automatically if the organization submits a completed Form 1023 within 12 months from the end of the 15-month period.

To get this extension, an organization must add the following statement at the top of its application: “Filed Pursuant to Section 301.9100-2.” No request for a letter ruling is required to obtain an automatic extension.

Line 4.—See Regulation sections 301.9100-1 and 301.9100-3 for information about a discretionary extension beyond the 27-month period. Under these regulations, the IRS will allow an organization a reasonable extension of time to file a Form 1023 if it submits evidence to establish that:

(a) It acted reasonably and in good faith, and

(b) Granting relief will not prejudice the interests of the government.

Showing reasonable action and good faith.—An organization acted reasonably and showed good faith if at least one of the following is true:

1. The organization filed its application before the IRS discovered its failure to file.
2. The organization failed to file because of intervening events beyond its control.
3. The organization exercised reasonable diligence but was not aware of the filing requirement.

To determine whether the organization exercised reasonable diligence, it is necessary to take into account the complexity of filing and the organization’s experience in these matters.

4. The organization reasonably relied upon the written advice of the IRS.
5. The organization reasonably relied upon the advice of a qualified tax professional who failed to file or advise the organization to file Form 1023. An organization cannot rely on the advice of a qualified tax professional if it knows or should know that he or she is not competent to render advice on filing exemption applications or is not aware of all the relevant facts.

Not acting reasonably and in good faith.—An organization has not acted reasonably and in good faith if it chose not to file after being informed of the requirement to file and the consequences of failure to do so. Furthermore, an organization has not acted reasonably and in good faith if it used hindsight to request an extension of time to file. That is, if after the extension deadline to file passes, specific facts have changed so that filing an application becomes advantageous to an organization, the IRS will not ordinarily grant an extension. To qualify for an extension in this situation, the organization must prove that its decision to file did not involve hindsight.

No prejudice to the interest of the government.—Prejudice to the interest of the government results if granting an extension of time to file to an organization results in a lower total tax liability for the years to which the filing applies than would have been the case if the organization had applied on time. Before granting an extension, the IRS may require the organization requesting it to submit a statement from an independent auditor certifying that no prejudice will result if the extension is granted.

Procedure for requesting extension.—To request a discretionary extension, an organization must submit the following with its Form 1023:

• A statement showing the date Form 1023 should have been filed and the date it was actually filed.
• An affidavit describing in detail the events that led to the failure to apply and to the discovery of that failure. If the organization relied on a qualified tax professional’s advice, the affidavit must describe the engagement and responsibilities of the professional and the extent to which the organization relied on him or her.
• All documents relevant to the election application.
• A dated declaration, signed by an individual authorized to act for the organization, that includes the following statement: “Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I have examined this request, including accompanying documents, and, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the request contains all the relevant facts relating to the request, and such facts are true, correct, and complete.”
• A detailed affidavit from individuals having knowledge or information about the events that led to the failure to make the application and to the discovery of that failure. These individuals include accountants or attorneys knowledgeable in tax matters who advised the organization concerning the application. Any affidavit from a tax professional must also describe the engagement and responsibilities of the professional as well as the advice the professional provided to the organization. The affidavit must also include the name, current address, and taxpayer identification number of the individual making the affidavit (the affiant). The affiant must also forward with the affidavit a dated and signed declaration that states: “Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I have examined this request, including accompanying documents, and, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the request contains all the relevant facts relating to the request, and such facts are true, correct, and complete.”

The reasons for late filing should be specific to your particular organization and situation. Regulation section 301.900-3 (see above) lists the factors the IRS will consider in determining if good cause exists for granting a discretionary extension of time to file the application. To address these factors, your response for line 4 should provide the following information:
1. Whether the organization consulted an attorney or accountant knowledgeable in tax matters or communicated with a responsible IRS employee (before or after the organization was created) to ascertain the correctness of its Federal filing requirements and, if so, the names and occupations or titles of the persons contacted, the approximate dates, and the substance of the information obtained;

2. How and when the organization learned about the 15-month deadline for filing Form 1023;

3. Whether any significant intervening circumstances beyond the organization's control prevented it from submitting the application timely or within a reasonable period of time after it learned of the requirement to file the application within the 15-month period; and

4. Any other information that you believe may establish reasonable action and good faith and no prejudice to the interest of the government for not filing timely or otherwise justify granting the relief sought.

A request for relief under this section is treated as part of the request for the exemption determination letter and is covered by the user fee submitted with Form 8718.

Line 5.—If you answer "No," the organization may receive an adverse letter limiting the effective date of its exempt status to the date its application was received.

Line 6.—The organization may still be able to qualify for exemption under section 501(c)(4) for the period preceding the effective date of its exemption as a section 501(c)(3) organization. If the organization is denied under section 501(c)(4) and is required to file Form 1024 as directed, the organization will not be liable for income tax returns as a taxable entity. Contributions to section 501(c)(4) organizations are generally not deductible by donors as charitable contributions.

Line 7.—Private foundations are subject to various requirements, restrictions, and excise taxes under Chapter 42 of the Code that do not apply to public charities. Also, contributions to private foundations may receive less favorable treatment than contributions to public charities. See Pub. 578. Therefore, it is usually to an organization's advantage to show that it qualifies as a public charity rather than as a private foundation if its activities or sources of support permit it to do so. Unless an organization meets one of the exceptions below, it is a private foundation. In general, an organization is not a private foundation if it is:

1. A church, school, hospital, or governmental unit;

2. A medical research organization operated in conjunction with a hospital;

3. An organization operated for the benefit of a college or university that is owned or operated by a governmental unit;

4. An organization that normally receives a substantial part of its support in the form of contributions from a governmental unit or from the general public as provided in section 170(b)(1)(A)(iv);

5. An organization that normally receives not more than one-third of its support from gross investment income and more than one-third of its support from contributions, membership fees, and gross receipts related to its exempt functions (subject to certain exceptions) as provided in section 501(c)(4)(S), (5), or (6) of the Code and also described in $ above, but not controlled by disqualified persons other than foundation managers, as provided in section 509(a)(3); or

6. An organization operated solely for the benefit of, and in connection with, one or more organizations described above (or for the benefit of one or more of the organizations described in section 501(c)(4)(5), or (6) of the Code and also described in $ above), but not controlled by disqualified persons other than foundation managers, as provided in section 509(a)(3); or

7. An organization organized and operated to test for public safety as provided in section 509(a)(4).

Line 8.— Basis for private operating foundation status: (Complete this line only if you answered "Yes" to the question on line 7.) A "private operating foundation" is a private foundation that spends substantially all of its adjusted net income or its minimum investment return, whichever is less, directly for the active conduct of the activities constituting the purpose or function for which it is organized and operated.

The foundation must satisfy the income test and one of the three supplemental tests: (1) the asset test; (2) the endowment test; or (3) the support test. For additional information see Pub. 578.

Line 9.— Basis for nonprofit foundation status: Check the box that shows why your organization is not a private foundation.

Box (a). A church or convention or association of churches.

Box (b). A school.—See the definition in the instructions for Schedule B.

Box (c). A hospital or medical research organization.—See the instructions for Schedule C.
Box (g) — If you believe the organization meets the public support test of section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) or 509(a)(2) but are uncertain as to which public support test it satisfies, check box (j). By checking this box, you are claiming that the organization is not a private foundation and are agreeing to let the IRS compute the public support of your organization and determine the correct foundation status.

Line 10.—An organization must complete a tax year consisting of at least 8 months to receive a definitive (final) ruling under sections 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) and 509(a)(1), or under section 509(a)(2).

However, organizations that checked box (h), (i), or (j) on line 9 that do not meet the 8-month requirement must request an advance ruling that covers their first 5 tax years instead of requesting a definitive ruling.

An organization that meets the 8-month requirement has two options:

1. It may request a definitive ruling. The organization’s public support computation will be based on the support the organization has received; or
2. It may request an advance ruling. The organization’s public support computation will be based on the support it receives during its first 5 tax years.

An organization should consider the advance ruling option if it has not received significant public support during its first tax year or during its first and second tax years, but it reasonably expects to receive such support by the end of its fifth tax year.

An organization that receives an advance ruling is treated, during the tax year in the advance ruling period, as a public charity (rather than a private foundation) for certain purposes, including those relating to the deductibility of contributions by the general public.

Line 11.—For definition of an unusual grant, see instructions for Part IV-A, line 12.

Line 12.—Answer this question only if you checked box (g), (h), or (j) on line 9.

Line 13.—Answer this question on the line only if you checked box (i) or (j) on line 9 and are requesting a definitive ruling on line 10.

Line 14.—Answer “Yes” or “No” on each line. If “Yes,” you must complete the appropriate schedule. Each schedule is included in this application package with accompanying instructions. For a brief definition of each type of organization, see the appropriate schedule.

Part IV. Financial Data

Complete the Statement of Revenue and Expenses for the current year and each of the 3 years immediately before it (or the years the organization has existed, if less than 4).

Any applicant that has existed for less than 1 year must give financial data for the current year and proposed budgets for the following 2 years.

The IRS may request financial data for more than 4 years if necessary.

All financial information for the current year must cover the period beginning on the first day of the organization’s established annual accounting period and ending on any day that is within 60 days of the date of this application.

If the date of this application is less than 60 days after the first day of the current accounting period, no financial information is required for the current year.

Financial information is required for the 3 preceding years regardless of the current year requirements. Please note that if no financial information is required for the current year, the preceding year’s financial information can end on any day that is within 60 days of the date of this application.

Prepare the statements using the method of accounting and the accounting period (e.g., calendar year) on line 4 of Part I. If a foreign organization, the method of accounting and the amount paid. The following example shows the format and amount of each required statement:

Colleges, universities, and other educational institutions and agencies subject to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (20 U.S.C. 1232g) are required to list the names of individuals who were provided scholarships or other financial assistance where such disclosure would violate the privacy provisions of the law. Instead, such organizations should group each type of financial aid provided, indicate the number of individuals who received the aid, and specify the aggregate dollar amount.

Line 16.—Attach a schedule showing the name of each recipient, a brief description of the purposes or conditions of payment, and the amount paid. The following example shows the format and amount of detail required for this schedule:

Each fund is like a separate entity in that it has a self-balancing set of accounts showing assets, liabilities, equity (fund balance), income, and expenses. If the organization does not use fund accounting, report only the "net assets" account balances, such as: capital stock, paid-in capital, and retained earnings or accumulated income.

Part III  Technical Requirements

1 Are you filing Form 1023 within 15 months from the end of the month in which your organization was created or formed? □ Yes □ No

   If you answer "Yes," do not answer questions on lines 2 through 6 below.

2 If one of the exceptions to the 15-month filing requirement shown below applies, check the appropriate box and proceed to question 7.

   Exceptions—You are not required to file an exemption application within 15 months if the organization:

   □ a  Is a church, interchurch organization of local units of a church, a convention or association of churches, or an integrated auxiliary of a church. See Specific Instructions, Line 2a, on page 4;

   □ b  Is not a private foundation and normally has gross receipts of not more than $5,000 in each tax year; or

   □ c  Is a subordinate organization covered by a group exemption letter, but only if the parent or supervisory organization timely submitted a notice covering the subordinate.

3 If the organization does not meet any of the exceptions on line 2 above, are you filing Form 1023 within 27 months from the end of the month in which the organization was created or formed? □ Yes □ No

   If "Yes," your organization qualifies under Regulation section 301.9100-2, for an automatic 12-month extension of the 15-month filing requirement. Do not answer questions 4 through 6.

   If "No," answer question 4.

4 If you answer "No" to question 3, does the organization wish to request an extension of time to apply under the "reasonable action and good faith" and the "no prejudice to the interest of the government" requirements of Regulations section 301.9100-3? □ Yes □ No

   If "Yes," give the reasons for not filing this application within the 27-month period described in question 3. See Specific Instructions, Part III, Line 4, before completing this item. Do not answer questions 5 and 6.

   If "No," answer questions 5 and 6.

5 If you answer "No" to question 4, your organization's qualification as a section 501(c)(3) organization can be recognized only from the date this application is filed. Therefore, do you want us to consider the application as a request for recognition of exemption as a section 501(c)(3) organization from the date the application is received and not retroactively to the date the organization was created or formed? □ Yes □ No

6 If you answer "Yes" to question 5 above and wish to request recognition of section 501(c)(4) status for the period beginning with the date the organization was formed and ending with the date the Form 1023 application was received (the effective date of the organization's section 501(c)(3) status), check here □ and attach a completed page 1 of Form 1024 to this application.

Instructions

Although a church, its integrated auxiliaries, or a convention or association of churches is not required to file Form 1023 to be exempt from Federal income tax or to receive tax-deductible contributions, such an organization may find it advantageous to obtain recognition of exemption. In this event, you should submit information showing that your organization is a church, synagogue, association or convention of churches, religious order or religious organization that is an integral part of a church, and that it is carrying out the functions of a church.

In determining whether an admittedly religious organization is also a church, the IRS does not accept any and every assertion that such an organization is a church. Because beliefs and practices vary so widely, there is no single definition of the word "church" for tax purposes. The IRS considers the facts and circumstances of each organization applying for church status.

The IRS maintains two basic guidelines in determining that an organization meets the religious purposes test:

1. That the particular religious beliefs of the organization are truly and sincerely held, and
2. That the practices and rituals associated with the organization's religious beliefs or creed are not illegal or contrary to clearly defined public policy.

In order for the IRS to properly evaluate your organization's activities and religious purposes, it is important that all questions in Schedule A be answered.

The information submitted with Schedule A will be a determining factor in granting the "church" status requested by your organization. In completing the schedule, consider the following points:

1. The organization's activities in furtherance of its beliefs must be exclusively religious, and
2. An organization will not qualify for exemption if it has a substantial nonexempt purpose of serving the private interests of its founder or the founder's family.
Schedule B. Schools, Colleges, and Universities

1. Does, or will, the organization normally have: (a) a regularly scheduled curriculum, (b) a regular faculty of qualified teachers, (c) a regularly enrolled student body, and (d) facilities where its educational activities are regularly carried on?
   - [ ] Yes  [ ] No
   If "No," do not complete the rest of Schedule B.

2. Is the organization an instrumentality of a state or political subdivision of a state?
   - [ ] Yes  [ ] No
   If "Yes," document this in Part II and do not complete items 3 through 10 of Schedule B. (See instructions on the back of Schedule B.)

3. Does or will the organization (or any department or division within it) discriminate in any way on the basis of race with respect to:
   - [ ] Admissions?
   - [ ] Use of facilities or exercise of student privileges?
   - [ ] Faculty or administrative staff?
   - [ ] Scholarship or loan programs?
   If "Yes" for any of the above, explain.

4. Does the organization include a statement in its charter, bylaws, or other governing instrument, or in a resolution of its governing body, that it has a racially nondiscriminatory policy as to students?
   - [ ] Yes  [ ] No
   Attach whatever corporate resolutions or other official statements the organization has made on this subject.

5a. Has the organization made its racially nondiscriminatory policies known in a manner that brings the policies to the attention of all segments of the general community that it serves?
   - [ ] Yes  [ ] No
   If "Yes," describe how these policies have been publicized and how often relevant notices or announcements have been made. If no newspaper or broadcast media notices have been used, explain.

   - [ ] If applicable, attach clippings of any relevant newspaper notices or advertising, or copies of tapes or scripts used for media broadcasts. Also attach copies of brochures and catalogs dealing with student admissions, programs, and scholarships, as well as representative copies of all written advertising used as a means of informing prospective students of the organization's programs.

6. Attach a numerical schedule showing the racial composition, as of the current academic year, and projected to the extent feasible for the next academic year, of: (a) the student body, and (b) the faculty and administrative staff.

7. Attach a list showing the amount of any scholarship and loan funds awarded to students enrolled and the racial composition of the students who have received the awards.

8a. Attach a list of the organization's incorporators, founders, board members, and donors of land or buildings, whether individuals or organizations.
   - [ ] State whether any of the organizations listed in 8a have as an objective the maintenance of segregated public or private school education, and, if so, whether any of the individuals listed in 8a are officers or active members of such organizations.

9a. Enter the public school district and county in which the organization is located.

   - [ ] Was the organization formed or substantially expanded at the time of public school desegregation in the above district or county?
   - [ ] Has the organization ever been determined by a state or Federal administrative agency or judicial body to be racially discriminatory?
   - [ ] If "Yes," attach a detailed explanation identifying the parties to the suit, the forum in which the case was heard, the cause of action, the holding in the case, and the citations (if any) for the case. Also describe in detail what changes in the organization's operation, if any, have occurred since then.

   For more information, see back of Schedule B.
A "school" is an organization that has the primary function of presenting formal instruction, normally maintains a regular faculty and curriculum, normally has a regularly enrolled student body, and has a place where its educational activities are carried on.

The term generally corresponds to the definition of an "educational organization" in section 170(b)(1)(A)(iii). Thus, the term includes primary, secondary, preparatory and high schools, and colleges and universities. The term does not include organizations engaged in both educational and noneducational activities unless the latter are merely incidental to the educational activities. A school for handicapped children is included within the term, but an organization merely providing handicapped children with custodial care is not.

For purposes of Schedule B, "Sunday schools" that are conducted by a church are not included in the term "schools," but separately organized schools (such as parochial schools, universities, and similar institutions) are included in the term.

A private school that otherwise meets the requirements of section 501(c)(3) as an educational institution will not qualify for exemption under section 501(a) unless it has a racially nondiscriminatory policy as to students.

This policy means that the school admits students of any race to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at that school and that the school does not discriminate on the basis of race in the administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic or other school-administered programs.

The IRS considers discrimination on the basis of race to include discrimination on the basis of color and national or ethnic origin. A policy of a school that favors racial minority groups in admissions, facilities, programs, and financial assistance will not constitute discrimination on the basis of race when the purpose and effect is to promote the establishment and maintenance of that school's racially nondiscriminatory policy as to students.

See Rev. Proc. 75-50, 1975-2 C.B. 587, for guidelines and recordkeeping requirements for determining whether private schools that are applying for recognition of exemption have racially nondiscriminatory policies as to students.

Line 2

An instrumentality of a state or political subdivision of a state may qualify under section 501(c)(3) if it is organized as a separate entity from the governmental unit that created it and if it otherwise meets the organizational and operational tests of section 501(c)(3). See Rev. Rul. 60-384, 1960-2 C.B. 172. Any such organization that is a school is not a private school and, therefore, is not subject to the provisions of Rev. Proc. 75-50.

Schools that incorrectly answer "Yes" to line 2 will be contacted to furnish the information called for by lines 3 through 10 in order to establish that they meet the requirements for exemption. To prevent delay in the processing of your application, be sure to answer line 2 correctly and complete lines 3 through 10, if applicable.

Section II: Medical Research Organizations

1 Name the hospitals with which the organization has a relationship and describe the relationship.

2 Attach a schedule describing the organization’s present and proposed (indicate which) medical research activities; show the nature of the activities, and the amount of money that has been or will be spent in carrying them out. (Making grants to other organizations is not direct conduct of medical research.)

3 Attach a statement of assets showing their fair market value and the portion of the assets directly devoted to medical research.

For more information, see back of Schedule C.
Additional Information

Hospitals
To be entitled to status as a "hospital," an organization must have, as its principal purpose or function, the providing of medical or hospital care or medical education or research. "Medical care" includes the treatment of any physical or mental disability or condition, the cost of which may be taken as a deduction under section 213, whether the treatment is performed on an inpatient or outpatient basis. Thus, a rehabilitation institution, outpatient clinic, or community mental health or drug treatment center may be a hospital if its principal function is providing the above-described services.

On the other hand, a convalescent home or a home for children or the aged is not a hospital. Similarly, an institution whose principal purpose or function is to train handicapped individuals to pursue some vocation is not a hospital. Moreover, a medical education or medical research institution is not a hospital, unless it is also actively engaged in providing medical or hospital care to patients on its premises or in its facilities on an inpatient or outpatient basis.

Cooperative Hospital Service Organizations
Cooperative hospital service organizations (section 501(e)) should not complete Schedule C.

Medical Research Organizations
To qualify as a medical research organization, the principal function of the organization must be the direct, continuous, and active conduct of medical research in conjunction with a hospital that is described in section 501(c)(3), a Federal hospital, or an instrumentality of a governmental unit referred to in section 170(c)(1).

For purposes of section 170(b)(1)(A)(iii) only, the organization must be set up to use the funds it receives in the active conduct of medical research by January 1 of the fifth calendar year after receipt. The arrangement it has with donors to assure use of the funds within the 5-year period must be legally enforceable.

As used here, "medical research" means investigations, experiments, and studies to discover, develop, or verify knowledge relating to the causes, diagnosis, treatment, prevention, or control of human physical or mental diseases and impairments.

For further information, see Regulations section 1.170A-9(c)(2).

22

For more information, see back of Schedule E.
Instructions

If the organization claims to be an operating foundation described in section 4942(j)(3) and—

a. Bases its claim to private operating foundation status on normal and regular operations over a period of years; or

b. Is newly created, set up as a private operating foundation, and has at least 1 year's experience; provide the information under the income test and under one of the three supplemental tests (assets, endowment, or support). If the organization does not have at least 1 year's experience, provide the information called for on line 21. If the organization's private operating foundation status depends on its normal and regular operations as described in a above, attach a schedule similar to Schedule E showing the data in tabular form for the 3 years preceding the most recent tax year. (See Regulations section 53.4942(b)-1 for additional information before completing the "Income Test" section of this schedule.) Organizations claiming section 4942(j)(5) status must satisfy the income test and the endowment test.

A "private operating foundation" described in section 4942(j)(3) is a private foundation that spends substantially all of the smaller of its adjusted net income (as defined below) or its minimum investment return directly for the active conduct of the activities constituting the purpose or function for which it is organized and operated. The foundation must satisfy the income test under section 4942(j)(3)(A), as modified by Regulations section 53.4942(b)-1, and one of the following three supplemental tests: (1) the assets test under section 4942(j)(3)(B)(i); (2) the endowment test under section 4942(j)(3)(B)(ii); or (3) the support test under section 4942(j)(3)(B)(iii).

Certain long-term care facilities described in section 4942(j)(5) are treated as private operating foundations for purposes of section 4942 only.

"Adjusted net income" is the excess of gross income determined with the income modifications described below for the tax year over the sum of deductions determined with the deduction modifications described below. Items of gross income from any unrelated trade or business and the deductions directly connected with the unrelated trade or business are taken into account in computing the organization's adjusted net income.

Income Modifications

The following are income modifications (adjustments to gross income):

1. Section 103 (relating to interest on certain governmental obligations) does not apply. Thus, interest that otherwise would have been excluded should be included in gross income.

2. Except as provided in 3 below, capital gains and losses are taken into account only to the extent of the net short-term gain. Long-term gains and losses are disregarded.

3. The gross amount received from the sale or disposition of certain property should be included in gross income to the extent that the acquisition of the property constituted a qualifying distribution under section 4942(g)(1)(B).

4. Repayments of prior qualifying distributions (as defined in section 4942(g)(1)(A)) constitute items of gross income.

5. Any amount set aside under section 4942(g)(2) that is "not necessary for the purposes for which it was set aside" constitutes an item of gross income.

Deduction Modifications

The following are deduction modifications (adjustments to deductions):

1. Expenses for the general operation of the organization according to its charitable purposes (as contrasted with expenses for the production or collection of income and management, conservation, or maintenance of income-producing property) should not be taken as deductions. If only a portion of the property is used for production of income subject to section 4942 and the remainder is used for general charitable purposes, the expenses connected with that property should be divided according to those purposes. Only expenses related to the income-producing portion should be taken as deductions.

2. Charitable contributions, deductible under section 170 or 642(c), should not be taken into account as deductions for adjusted net income.

3. The net operating loss deduction prescribed under section 172 should not be taken into account as a deduction for adjusted net income.

4. The special deductions for corporations (such as the dividends-received deduction) allowed under sections 241 through 249 should not be taken into account as deductions for adjusted net income.

5. Depreciation and depletion should be determined in the same manner as under section 4940(c)(3)(B).

Section 265 (relating to the expenses and interest connected with tax-exempt income) should not be taken into account.

You may find it easier to figure adjusted net income by completing column (c), Part 1, Form 990-PF, according to the instructions for that form.

An organization that has been held to be a private operating foundation will continue to be such an organization only if it meets the income test and either the assets, endowment, or support test in later years. See Regulations section 53.4942(b) for additional information. No additional request for ruling will be necessary or appropriate for an organization to maintain its status as a private operating foundation. However, data related to the above tests must be submitted with the organization's annual information return, Form 990-PF.
