Abstract

This guide is a usable reference for future and current members, also known as brothers, of Delta Sigma Pi, to help facilitate a thriving and successful chapter. Ball State's chapter has 15 officers. The guide contains a description of the responsibilities of each office. Included are examples of the items that need to be submitted by each officer to the Central Office to obtain Chapter Efficiency Index points. Several suggested activities, ideas for events, and advice for each officer are included.
Acknowledgments

I want to thank Dr. James Duncan for his role as my thesis advisor. He offered valuable advice throughout the whole process. I also want to thank my brothers of Delta Sigma Pi. I have learned so much about the fraternity and the chapter over the past four years.

Dear Current and Future Brothers,

I chose to create this booklet as a way of giving back to the chapter. I have had many great mentors over my collegiate career who have helped me study for classes, explore the professional world, and learn how to run a successful chapter. I realized over the years that much valuable advice gets lost in the transition from one officer to the next, because everything is transferred by word of mouth. I hope this booklet makes the transition easier.

I pledged Delta Sigma Pi during the second semester of my freshman year. I decided to pledge, because I wanted to be more active in the College of Business and I wanted to meet more business students. At that time, the chapter had about fifty brothers and I was intimidated by all of them. One of my greatest benefits of joining was the requirement of interviewing each active brother. This forced me to talk to people I didn’t know and speak professionally. I had the privilege of having Woody Prechel as my Big Bro to help me become a member. The requirements of Professional Dress taught me how to be comfortable in a suit.

My first semester as a brother, I held a semester office, the Public Relations/Deltasig Correspondent. This gave me an understanding of the inner workings of the fraternity. I realized that I wanted to be more involved. I opened up more and became a Big Bro for the first time.

For the next year, I was the Membership Secretary. I was no longer the youngest in the fraternity and I felt the responsibility to the newer members to show them the opportunities within Delta Sigma Pi. I had three more great Lil’ Bros and I had my own family tree just as my Big Bro did. At times, I had to be strict with the brothers about the Attendance Policy and the Dress Code. That year was difficult, because before then I never had to tell my peers what they could and couldn’t do.

Sometime during my term as Membership Secretary, I realized I wanted more responsibility, and I felt I owed the chapter my knowledge that I had learned while being a brother. I became President of the chapter. There are a lot of things I would have done differently if I had the chance for another term, but overall I was happy with the success of the year. The chapter was named 2000-2001’s Most Improved Chapter for the Central Region. I would have communicated more with some of the officers and the faculty advisors. Often, there would be times where I didn’t speak with an officer for almost a month. I relied on them to come to events, but I really should have made more of an effort to call each officer. With the faculty advisors, I didn’t utilize them like I should have. They have great advice, but I’m stubborn and I like our chapter to do things without the aid of others. I believe I did help initiate some great brothers, organize great events, and set up the chapter to receive 100,000 points at the end of the year.

As I graduate, I will always remember my times as a Deltasig. Delta Sigma Pi is like a lot of organizations, what you put into it is what you get out of it. I spent a lot of time on Delta Sigma Pi events and I made a lot of great friends. I also learned a lot about the professional business world. As a result, I feel adequately prepared to enter the “real world.” Deltasigs work hard and play hard. I believe I did both, therefore you might hear some stories about Initiations and Spring Flings. They’re probably all true.
Future and Current Deltasigs, I hope you learn as much and have as much fun as I did. I have shared my story to help future brothers understand where I'm coming from. I also hope this booklet helps the future officers organize events and become a successful chapter for years to come. Also, please maintain professionalism, because that is one of the greatest benefits a member can ever receive from the chapter.

Fraternally,

Jennifer Gordon

Chapter Inspection

The Chapter Inspection is due during the fall semester. It can be completed online under forms at www.dspnet.org. Be prepared to know how many ritual books and pledge pins the chapter has. The breakdown of membership by classes is important to know for this form. Also, comments from the Chapter Advisor as well as the Chapter President are needed.

Chapter Survey

The Chapter Survey is due during the spring semester. It can be completed online under forms at www.dspnet.org. The breakdown of membership by classes for members and pledges will need to be gathered. The chapter finances are included in this survey, so the President must be aware of the revenues and expenses to date. There is also an assessment of the chapter management, professional activities, and community service events.

Grade Report

Before the last meeting of the semester, the President should print out a grade report form off the Delta Sigma Pi website. During the last meeting of the semester, each brother should sign his/her name to allow his/her semester grades to be disclosed to the Central Office. During the first couple of weeks of the next semester, the President should take the grade report to the Registrar's Office to be completed. Then the form can be mailed to the Central Office.

Advice

Communicate

To help establish an idea of where the brothers would like the chapter to head, a questionnaire has been included in this booklet. This will help the President determine the strengths and weaknesses of the chapter. To ensure that events get planned, there needs to be lots of communication between the President and the officers. Normally, he/she will need to slightly remind each officer of the next upcoming thing to do. Before each executive meeting, the President should have one item to ask or tell each officer. For those officers who don't attend the executive meetings, the President will need to find time throughout the week to obtain updates on their plans. It is also very important that the President communicate with the faculty advisors every couple of weeks. They have very good ideas and like to be involved. Also, the President shouldn't be afraid to call the Central Office to get answers to his/her questions.

Follow Up

It is the President’s obligation to the chapter to ensure that each officer is doing his/her job. For example, in the executive meeting, the President mentions to the Vice President of Alumni Relations (VPAR) that the chapter should send out letters to the alumni about Homecoming. Every week or more often, the President should ask the VPAR how things are going, if he/she has any questions or problems, or needs any help. If the President doesn’t follow up, usually the activity doesn’t get completed as timely as it should. It is imperative that he/she remind the Vice President of Chapter Operations of the items that need to be turned into the Central Office and of the impending deadlines. This officer has a lot of responsibility, and sometimes items may not be sent in.
Motivate

The President needs to find new ways to create excitement and increase attendance. If new and different events are organized, people are going to be more inclined to attend. Another way for the President to ensure attendance is to update the calendar in the office.

Decision-Making

With this position, the President may have to make several decisions on his/her own without the help of the chapter. He/she needs to remember to keep the chapter’s interests in mind. Also he/she should help the chapter maintain a level of professionalism. Every person who becomes a member wants to be more professional, therefore it is important for the President to remember this when people complain about having to dress professionally.

Strategic Plans and Other Chapter Efficiency Index Documents

When the President is first elected, his/her main concern should be to prepare Strategic Plans before December 15. The President should set a deadline of December 10 for the officers to submit their plans, thus giving the President time to track down the final plans that don’t get turned in and it will give him/her time to put them in order. It is very important that strategic plans get turned in to achieve a Superior Chapter status. All other documents should be followed up on to ensure that they are properly completed.

Advice

Encourage Brothers to be Active during Recruiting

The brothers need motivation to recruit new people. The Senior Vice President should remind them of the importance of a large chapter. He/she should challenge each brother to bring one person to a recruiting event. The Senior Vice President should arrange for brothers to enter the classes of sophomores and juniors to recruit new members.

Plan All Recruiting Events Well in Advance

When the Senior Vice President plans the recruiting events, he/she should schedule the events at different times of the day, which will ensure the ability for different people to attend the events. Also, the Senior Vice President should try to create new recruiting events to excite the brothers and prospective members. Before recruiting starts, flyers should be posted throughout the College of Business. The flyers should be colorful and creative to attract attention.

Inform the Prospective Members of Everything Delta Sigma Pi has to Offer

During the period for the recruiting tables, the brothers should be required to wear letters, because people are more comfortable talking to someone they know is a member. Also, the prospective members are able to see how many brothers there are. During the informative events, the Senior Vice President should tell the prospective members what is expected of them as pledges and as brothers. It also helps if officers talk about their experiences as well as a newly initiated member. During interviews, the Senior Vice President should stress the importance of the brothers’ professionalism to show the prospective members what this organization expects of actives and pledges.

PLEDGE EDUCATION PROGRAM

I. PURPOSE OF PLEDGE EDUCATION

The purpose of pledge education is to formally present fraternity history and information to our potential members. In addition, the pledges will learn the business operational requirements of the fraternity through the planning and participation in various projects described in this program. The pledges will become familiar with the opportunities and obligations available and expected of them through membership.

The course will be nine weeks and is coordinated with the academic calendar of Ball State University. This is a time for pledges to get an in-depth preview of membership and make a final decision on their pursuit of membership. Likewise, the evaluation methods described in the program will be implemented by the members of the Epsilon Xi chapter of Delta Sigma Pi to determine which candidates will best represent the Fraternity and uphold its professional objectives.

The Vice President for Pledge Education (VPPE) is an elected officer of the chapter and has a primary responsibility for the implementation and development of the pledge education program. In this Epsilon Xi chapter of Delta Sigma Pi the VPPE may delegate tasks to committee members in administering specific parts of the pledge education program. Nevertheless, as the elected officer, the VPPE is fully responsible for the enforcement of all portions of this program and the policies that pertain to it.

NATIONAL PLEDGING REQUIREMENTS

A. Manual-The chapter will provide each pledge with a personal copy of the Manual for Pledge Education. A complete original copy of the most recent edition will be supplied. Photocopied pages are not acceptable.

1. Each pledge must read the manual in its entirety and have a thorough understanding of all the information.

2. Each pledge must have thorough knowledge and understanding of the Risk Management Policy as presented in the front of the manual.

3. Six quizzes will be administered at regularly scheduled pledge meetings. Questions for the quizzes will be assigned in advance. Each pledge will be required to take a comprehensive written exam on the questions listed in the Manual for Pledge Education.

A grading scale will be implemented by the VPPE to utilize in reviewing weekly quizzes and the final pledge education exam. Passing scores on weekly quizzes will be stated by the VPPE. The final comprehensive written exam requires a score of 90%.

4. The answers to questions #11 and #12 are not found in the manual as changes occur frequently. The most current information will be provided by the VPPE and included in Section V of this program.
B. Finances-Each pledge is required to pay all initiation fees in full prior to initiation day. A payment plan may be agreed upon by the VPPE and Chapter Treasurer, but may not extend beyond initiation day.

1. The total initiation fee of this chapter is $140.00 per collegiate and it includes the following:
   1. The national initiation fee of $65.00 per collegiate.
   2. The badge lease of $50.00 per collegiate.

2. The local initiation fee of $25.00 per collegiate
   1. $14.00-administrative fee
   2. $6.00-pledge manuals
   3. $5.00-pledge binder

2. In the event that a pledge is not initiated for any reason, “1” and “2” above will be refunded in full. Any portion of “3” to be refunded is at the discretion of the chapter pending length of pledge time completed and supplies, etc. used. A breakdown of any refund from “3” shall be provided showing the distribution of funds previously used.

3. As pledges are not yet members, they may not conduct legal business under the name Delta Sigma Pi, and the pledge class should not open a separate account due to additional charges and risk involved. The pledge class treasurer should coordinate all payments of pledge fees and fund raising revenues through the chapter’s Treasurer.

C. Pledge Pin-Each pledge will be presented with a pin at the pledging ceremony that they must wear until initiation. The pledge pin identifies the pledge as a potential member and is a reminder of the endeavor to become a member. Any lost pledge pin will be charged to the pledge at $8.00 replacement cost.

D. Attendance-Pledges are required to attend certain events unless formally excused in advance by the VPPE.

1. Pledges must attend all scheduled pledge meetings.

2. All pledges must attend the professional, service, and fund raising events planned by the pledge class.

3. Pledges must attend one chapter business meeting.

4. Pledges must attend 25% of the professional and service events planned by the chapter during the length of the pledge education program.

5. Attendance at initiation is mandatory pending successful completion of the pledge education program. Specific instructions or an invitation will be provided to those who meet all of the criteria.
E. Professional Event-The pledge class as a whole will coordinate one professional event (speaker, tour, film, etc.) of their choice. All collegiate and faculty Brothers are to be invited to the event. At the discretion of the pledge class, the entire student body or other guests may also be invited.

F. Community or College/University Service-The pledge class as a whole will plan a service project of their choice that will benefit their campus, fellow peers, faculty, administration, or community. The project may be as simple as planting a tree, placing an additional trash can on campus, or visiting a nursing home, yet may be as extensive as hosting an alcohol awareness seminar for the entire student body or coordinating a service event that will benefit a charity or the community at large.

G. Fund Raising Event-The pledge class as a whole will plan one fund raising event of their choice. Profits will be used at the discretion of the pledge class for expenses related to the pledge professional event, service project, or approved social activity. A portion of the profits may be evenly distributed toward initiation fees of the pledges. Any profits remaining at the end of the pledge program may be donated to the general operating fund of the chapter or contributed to a chapter scholarship or investment account or the Delta Sigma Pi Leadership Foundation at the discretion of the pledge class.

H. Evaluate Recruiting-Each pledge will be asked to evaluate the recruiting events they attended prior to being invited to pledge. The VPPE will collect all evaluations and deliver them to the Senior Vice President.

I. Resume-Each pledge will prepare his/her personal resume and the VPPE will check to see that each pledge has a resume available before the end of pledging.

LOCAL CHAPTER REQUIREMENTS

1. Each pledge will briefly interview each brother in the local chapter. One signature from the Brother can be required to show that the interview took place.

2. Each pledge will be required to use a separate notebook (given by the big bro) for signatures and pledge class notes, fraternity notes, and schedules.

3. The pledge class must implement a Pledge Efficiency Index.

4. The pledge class must plan an event with the Brothers of the Chapter that follows the Risk Management Policy.

5. Pledges are required to attend study sessions.

6. Each pledge is required to meet regularly with his/her Big Brother.

7. The pledge class is required to make a pledge class t-shirt.

PLEDGE EVALUATION METHODS

Each pledge will be evaluated by the VPPE throughout the program and subsequently by the whole chapter before being invited to attend initiation. Any of the following methods or any combination of these may be utilized to determine the success of the pledge and their ability to enhance the objectives of the fraternity. If an evaluation method is not used, it should not be printed in the pledge program that is distributed to the pledges and submitted to the Central Office.

A. Quiz and National Exam grades-The pledges' knowledge of fraternity history and general operations will be determined through satisfactory scores on weekly quizzes and the national exam. The National Exam requires a score of 90%.

B. Attendance-Attendance of each pledge will be kept by the pledge Secretary and the VPPE at all required meeting and functions. This allows each pledge to demonstrate their time management ability as well as their overall interest in becoming a member.

C. Conduct-Honesty, sincerity, ambition, a positive attitude, and other similar traits represent an individual's good moral ethics and character that will reflect the image and reputation the fraternity desires of its members.

D. Big Brother Program-Each pledge will be matched, one to one, with members of the chapter. The member (Big Brother) will meet with the pledge (Little Brother) throughout the pledge education program. The Big Brother acts in many roles similar to a coach, trainer, aide, guide, host, or mentor and assists the pledge wherever necessary by answering questions, helping study, providing encouragement, and most importantly, demonstrating true friendship. Each pledge is given this personal opportunity to have a reliable source of assistance with any pledge requirement, academic strains, conflicts, or concerns that may develop. The Big Brother speaks on behalf of the pledge.

E. Pledge Efficiency Index (PEI)-The pledge class will complete a Pledge Efficiency Index. It is similar to the Chapter Efficiency Index that the chapter completes throughout the school year. The Index can be found in Article V of this program and the VPPE will be giving detailed instructions. The PEI will demonstrate teamwork and the success of the pledge class as a whole.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Any additional information that is provided to the pledges must be included in Section V of the pledge program. Pledges may not be given unauthorized "ideas to remember"; "obligations of pledges"; issues on respect or worthiness; required phrases; signature criteria; dress codes; list of traditional projects or other rules that are not found in this standard pledge program. Additionally, the chapter of VPPE may not require pledges to give a gift (paddle, etc.) to big brothers, officers, or the chapter.

PLEDGE EFFICIENCY INDEX MANUAL

The primary purpose of the Pledge Efficiency Index (PEI) is to provide your pledge class with a standard against which you may judge the effectiveness of your pledge class management and the relative strength of your programs. The PEI will also help acquaint you with the purpose of the Chapter Efficiency Index by which the brothers are being evaluated.

The PEI is a management aid, which is designed to assist your pledge class in operating more efficiently. Your Pledge Educator and Vice President for Chapter Operations will be happy to answer any questions regarding the PEI and will assist your pledge class in reaching your fullest potential.

Successful pledge class management requires that all duties and obligations be met promptly. Division achievements in the Pledge Efficiency Index have deadline dates, which will be strictly observed.

It is possible for the pledge class to achieve a maximum of 100,000 points divided among six divisions of the Pledge Efficiency Index. The six divisions of the PEI are:

Division A: Professional and Community Service Activities 20,000 points
Division B: Scholarship 25,000 points

Vice President of Pledge Education

Goals for Spring 20xx

1. Inform the pledges of the expectations of a brother
2. Help all pledges at the Pinning Ceremony to continue through to Initiation
3. Enforce the requirements and standards of Delta Sigma Pi
4. Enhance brotherhood within the pledge class
5. Encourage the formation of study groups between the brothers and the pledges
6. Encourage pledges to complete the pledge requirements early in pledgeship
7. Increase communication between brothers and the pledge class
Advice

Advise the Pledges and Don’t Plan Their Events

After the Pledging Ceremony, the Vice President of Pledge Education (VPPE) should hold an icebreaker to inform the pledges of all the requirements. The icebreaker also gives the pledges a chance to get to know each other. After the icebreaker, the pledges must run their own meetings and plan their own events. The VPPE’s job is to advise them and answer any questions. He/she should strongly encourage the pledges to plan their events early to provide ample time to earn their Pledge Efficiency Index points.

Inform the Brothers on the Progress of the Pledges

It is the responsibility of the VPPE to keep the chapter informed about the pledges to make voting to initiate them easier. If there are any problems that need to be dealt with by the Executive Board, he/she should inform them as soon as possible to get matters taken care of. Posting pledge quiz scores and signature totals enables the brothers see the progress of the pledges. Also, the VPPE should encourage the brothers to attend the pledge events to support their prospective brothers. Big Brothers are required to attend events, but if all brothers support the pledges, pledgeship is more appealing to the pledges.

Goals for Spring 20xx

1. Hold at least four professional events
2. Bring in speakers that relate directly to brothers’ majors
3. Facilitate a risk management event
4. Increase professionalism within the chapter
Advice

Organize Professional Events that will Interest the Brothers

The Vice President of Professional Activities (VPPA) should try to obtain speakers from different areas of business and different majors to reach the vast interests of all of the brothers. The chapter benefits if he/she tries to average a speaker a month throughout the school year. Brothers will be more likely to attend events that are more spaced out, and achieving the 40% attendance requirement will be easier. The VPPA might want to co-sponsor a professional event with another business organization to bring in more prestigious speakers and have a greater attendance turnout. Also, the VPPA should arrange for one risk management speaker to remind the brothers that they are not invincible and they need to be safe on campus and at collegiate events.
