Biographical Note:

Schuyler Nicholas Nolan (1894-1981) was born at Monroe City, Indiana. His father was a part-time barber and part-time gardener. After graduating from high school in 1912, he moved to South Bend and then Chicago, where he completed the Chicago Technical School mechanical drafting course. From the end of the First World War until 1930, he did residential landscape work in Danville, Peoria, Elgin, and River Forest, Illinois. In the 1930s, he was employed by the Indianapolis Parks Department (1933-35) and the Indiana State Highway Commission (1935-37), and he was landscape architect for the Indianapolis Home Shows of 1933, 1934, 1937, and 1939. Except for a short period during WWII, Nolan ran a single-person landscape architecture practice in Indianapolis from 1937 until his retirement in 1976. He also owned and operated a plant nursery (Amherst Nurseries) in Nora, Indiana, 1949-1961.
