

Why are you here?

So, why am I here? It's a good question.
I mean I totally ask that to myself everyday & it changes a lot.

There's that one simple answer to this question
if one were Christian... God

Mine because of my life
& other multiple answers.

I think that's why I'm here to actually just answer this question I am here to answer "why are you here?" Thankfully, today I'm here to be alive.
