Special Olympics

Ball State women’s golf coach Katherine Mowat, along with about 25 members of the National Golf Coaches Association, traveled to New Orleans in the summer of 2006 to assist in the construction of a new home in the Katrina ravaged Upper 9th Ward. The coaches worked in conjunction with the area Habitat for Humanity.

The Golf Courses

- The Ball State University women's golf team has playing privileges at Delaware Country Club and The Players Club in Muncie, Ind.
- Delaware Country Club is a private course where Ball State alum Tom Harris is the head golf professional. Harris was named the 2006 Indiana PGA Golf Professional of the Year.
- The Players Club is a public course which plays up to 7,000 yards for collegiate competition. Perry Dotson is the PGA Apprentice at The Players Club.
- Ball State accesses MD's Golf Academy in Muncie for indoor and year round practice. The Academy provides a driving range with heated stalls and an indoor putting surface.

The Competition

Ball State - 2009 Duramed MAC Preview Championship Team

- The 2009 Duramed MAC Preview Championship was the ninth for the Cardinals under the direction of head coach Katherine Mowat.
- Ball State head coach Katherine Mowat has hosted the Cardinal Classic in each of her seasons as the Cardinals head coach, and the event has been hosted by Ball State every year since 2001-02.

The Travel

In 2010-11, the Ball State women's golf team travelled to Arizona, Texas, Arkansas and Nevada for tournaments in addition to hosting its own Cardinal Classic and competing in the Midwest. In the last few years, Ball State has played at some of the nation's top golf courses, including Crooked Stick and the Brickyard Crossing in Indianapolis, Ind. Crooked Stick hosted the Solheim Cup in 2005, while the Brickyard has hosted numerous events, including Senior Tour events and the Mid-American Conference Championships for men and women.
The Academics

- Ball State’s men’s golf team managed a 3.205 cumulative team grade-point average in 2010-11, which earned them the honor of being named a Golf Coaches Association of America All-Academic Team for the third consecutive year.
- The 3.205 mark was the highest among all the men’s athletic teams at Ball State for 2010-11.
- Ball State’s Alex Stinson was named to the 2011 Academic All-Mid-American Conference team, which is voted on by the league’s faculty athletic representatives. TJ Carpenter, Joe Gasser and Tony Lazzara each received honorable mention.

The Support

- JUSTIN CROSS MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP: This scholarship was established in memory of Ball State golfer Justin Cross who lost his nearly five-year battle with leukemia in 2005. The golf program sold “Audience of 1” bracelets in Cross’ honor to establish the fund with the assistance of the Cross family and father, Ron. For more information on the Justin Cross Memorial Scholarship, contact the BSU men’s golf office at 765.285.8911.
- GULLION GOLF SCHOLARSHIP: This scholarship was created in 1990 by Clarence and Virginia Gullion to financially assist outstanding male golf student-athletes. An award is made annually to a deserving student who is a member of the golf team. Mr. Gullion and his family are Muncie residents and owners of Clancy’s Car Washes, Inc., and Clancy’s Village Bowl, Inc. Mr. Gullion is a 1958 graduate of BSU and a golf letterman.
- JAMES D. ROSEMA ATHLETIC FUND: This fund was established in 1994 by Muncie residents James and Mary Rosema, owners of Rosema Corporation, an interior finishing company. The Rosemas’ created this fund as a means to contribute to Ball State’s athletic department, and is used to provide financial assistance to the Ball State golf team.
- EARL C. YEINSTINGSMEIER FUND: This fund was established by the Ball State University Alumni Association in 1995 and is used to assist the Ball State golf team’s travel expenses. The fund is supported by the BSU Alumni Association and gifts from private donors. Contributions can be made by contacting the Alumni Association 765.285.1090.

The Alumni

- The Ball State University men’s golf program and its student-athletes have a rich tradition of success not only while at Ball State, but with success after college, in professional golf. The tradition was strengthened in 2005 when Nationwide Tour rookie and former Ball State men’s golfer Andrew Johnson notched his first career Nationwide Tour victory at the Cleveland Open presented by Legend Financial Group.
- Jeff Gallagher and Brian Tennyson each competed on the PGA Tour during their careers before Darrell Brinker turned pro in 1994 and played on both the NIKE and Hooters Tours. Gallagher remains active on the Nationwide Tour where he has tallied two tournament victories and 79 top-25 finishes in his career.
- Jamie Broce, who was awarded the 1998 Golf Coaches Association’s Ben Hogan Award as the nation’s top collegiate golf scholar-athlete, garnered three top-four finishes while playing on the Nationwide Tour from 2005-07. He also has professional golf experience on the Hooters Tour. In 2000, Broce qualified and played in the PGA Greater Milwaukee Open.
- Patrick Wilkes-Krier, a 2006 Ball State alum, was joined on the Hooters Tour in 2009 by 2007 alum C.D. Hockersmith and 2009 Ball State graduates Brian Maurer and Andrew Rhodes. Maurer qualified for the 2011 PGA John Deere Classic. Eric Steger, a 2011 Ball State graduate, has begun pursuit of his pro career.
- Ball State head golf coach Mike Fleck annually hosts an Alumni Golf Outing for all former Ball State golfers and supporters of the Cardinals’ golf program. For information, contact Coach Fleck at 765.285.8391.

The Travel

In the past few seasons, the Ball State men’s golf team has traveled to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, and St. Croix in the U.S. Virgin Islands... In addition to the golf at one of the nation’s outstanding courses, the golf teams have visited Lowes Motor Speedway in Charlotte, N.C., Krzyzewskiville at the Duke University campus and the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.
Katherine Mowat, who was named the head women’s golf coach at Ball State University Aug. 2, 2004, has led the Cardinals to nine tournament titles in her seven seasons at the helm.

In 2010-11, Mowat guided the Cardinals to five top-5 tournament finishes and a third-place showing at the Mid-American Conference Championships. In addition, Ball State’s Brittany Kelly became the first female golfer in school history to advance to the NCAA Regional, while Rachael Pruett won the first individual title of her career.

In 2009-10, Mowat led the Cardinals to the school’s best-ever finish in the MAC Championships with a second place showing. As a reward for her efforts, Mowat was recognized by her peers as the MAC Coach of the Year, the first-ever award for a Ball State women’s golf coach.

In addition, she led Ball State to the tournament title at The Preview plus a second place finish at the Cardinal Classic and a third-place showing at the Saluki Invitational.

Mowat guided Ball State to one tournament crown in 2009-10, three tournament championships in 2008-09, four tournament wins in 2007-08 and one in 2005-06.

“Building this program has been an enjoyable experience,” Mowat says. “To be able to mentor female student-athletes at a great place like Ball State has been a pleasure. The young women in this program know what is necessary to be successful academically and athletically. We have a lot of work to do to get where we want to be, but we have a strong foundation of golfers and are looking forward to the challenge of winning the MAC.”

Graduate Assistant
Women’s Golf
Rachael Pruett
Rachael Pruett is a graduate assistant coach for the Ball State women’s golf team after completing her four-year playing career with the Cardinals in 2010-11.

Pruett was a 2010 All-Mid-American Conference Tournament Team and Academic All-MAC selection. She was a three-time National Golf Coaches Association All-America Scholar and won the 2010 Cardinal Classic as a senior.

Pruett managed a 78.21 average from 2008-10, which is the fourth best two-year mark in Ball State history. She completed her career with a 78.78 average, which is the second best career mark in Ball State annals.
Mike Fleck, who was a member of the Ball State University golf team from 1988 through 1992, was named the third head men’s golf coach in Ball State history Aug. 20, 1998.

Fleck replaced Earl Yestingsmeier, who was Ball State’s head coach for 35 years before his retirement in June of 1998.

In Fleck’s 13 seasons, he has coached the team to 12 tournament titles, including the prestigious 2006 First Energy Intercollegiate played at the famed Firestone Golf Club. In the 2009 calendar year, the Cardinals managed to win the Cardinal Collegiate at Sultan’s Run in Jasper, Ind., and claimed the championship at the Dayton Flyer Invitational at National Cash Register Golf Course in Kettering, Ohio.

In 2010-11, Fleck guided the Cardinals to the Earl Yestingsmeier Invitational title and a second-place finish at the Mid-American Conference Championships. For his efforts, Fleck was named the 2010-11 MAC Coach of the Year. The second place finish was the third top three showing in the last six years at the conference championships for the Cardinals.

In addition to the on-course success, a Ball State golf student-athlete has been named a Cleveland Golf All-America Scholar on 37 occasions. In 2008-09, Ball State’s Ross Cost received the honor, while three members – Wayne Denger, C.D. Hockeramth and Andy Skillman -- each earned the honor for a second straight season in 2007. Ball State was the only school in the nation with five selections in 2006.

Jo Ann Gora began serving as Ball State’s 14th president in August 2004. Under her leadership, the university has made immersive learning the hallmark of every Ball State student’s college experience. From 2007-2010, nearly 8,200 students completed more than 500 immersive learning projects throughout Indiana and beyond.

Gora has led the development and implementation of the university’s Education Redefined strategic plan, which was the basis of the university’s capital campaign, Ball State Bold. It concluded in June 2011 and topped its $200 million goal by more than $10 million.

Since Gora’s arrival, Ball State has been in the midst of an unprecedented era of campus improvement. For the eight-year period ending in 2012, the university is spending approximately $418 million on major construction and renovation projects. Gora was one of 12 charter signatories to the American College and University Presidents Climate Commitment in 2006. She has led Ball State’s sustainability efforts, including its geothermal energy project, the largest of its kind in the country. This fall, the university completes Phase One of the project, shutting down two coal-fired boilers and saving more than $1 million annually in operational efficiencies.

In 2009, Gora earned the Mira Trailblazer Award from TechPoint for her significant and lasting contributions to technology innovation in Indiana. She is a member of the American Council on Education’s Board of Directors and the Association of Governing Boards’ Council of Presidents. She chairs the Mid-American Conference Presidents’ Council and co-chairs the Central Indiana Corporate Partnership. She serves on the boards of the Indiana Chamber of Commerce, First Merchants Bank, and Ball Memorial Hospital.

Founded in 1918, Ball State is a state-assisted residential university. About 22,000 undergraduate and graduate students enroll annually.

Ball State is ranked a doctoral/research-intensive institution by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching and by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools.
